GERMAN SWIMMER WINS PRIZE

VIERKOETTER WILL RECEIVE $30,000;
CRAMPS STOP YOUNG

Baker Covers Route In Eleven Hours—Frenchman Second

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 1.—For his spectacular achievement in winning the Canadian national twenty-one mile marathon swim, Ernst Vierkoetter, German swimmer, today will receive the $30,000 cash prize offered by William Wrigley, Jr., of Chicago.

The gruelling swim, the second sponsored by the Chicago millionaire, was won by Vierkoetter last night when he crossed the finish line and clambered out of the cold water without assistance after swimming for eleven hours, forty-two minutes and twelve seconds.

Taking the lead from George Young, winner of the Catalina marathon, the first, long-distance swim that Wrigley financed, Vierkoetter kept well in advance of the pack of thirty-one swimmers throughout the afternoon and evening. Two hundred contestants started. When his strong, steady strokes carried Vierkoetter victoriously to the finish line, his nearest rival, Georges Michel, French channel swimmer, was two miles in the rear. Michel finished in second place after 16 hours and 12 minutes in the water, winning the secondary prize of $7,500.

William Erickson, of New York, the only other finisher, came in at 3:30 this morning.

Young, whose smashing victory in the Catalina swim made him a serious contender in the Toronto race, was seized with an attack of cramps shortly after he had passed the four-mile mark and was taken out of the race. One by one many of the other favorites were forced to drop out as the stress of swimming through the chilly, choppy waters of Lake Ontario became too much for them. Miss Lottie Moore Schoemmel, New York City swimming teacher, was eleven miles from the finishing point when she was forced to drop out.

The first two hours of the race took a toll of sixty of the entrants, who found the combination of cold water and chilly air too much for them. The race was a sure victory for Vierkoetter from the time he passed Young, for his sixty-stroke a minute speed did not diminish, and he entered the final lap of the triangular course seemingly as fresh as when he started.

Vierkoetter was accorded a tremendous ovation as he emerged from the water. He waved in response to the cheering populace and was taken on the shoulders of the crowd like a football hero.

Coptenders who were forced to drop out included Arthur Compton, the fourteen-year-old boy from Long Beach, Cal., who had completed eighteen miles of the gruelling swim, and Miss Ethel Hertle, of New York, who was forced to quit because of leg cramps.

Martha Stager, of Portland, Ore.; Edith Hedin, of Toronto; Von Papenfus, of South Africa; and Henry Sullivan, famous swimmer of Lowell, Mass., also were taken from the water last evening. Sullivan was in eighth place when he quit.

FLOGGERS' VICTIM LEAVES HOSPITAL

AKRON, O., Sept. 1.—Alfred Harris, furniture dealer, of Kent, who says he was kidnapped by a band of eight masked men while working in his store last Tuesday morning, today was to be taken from city hospital here to show authorities of Summit and Portage counties, special investigators, and Kent police the exact spot where, according to his story, he was beaten and thrown from an automobile.

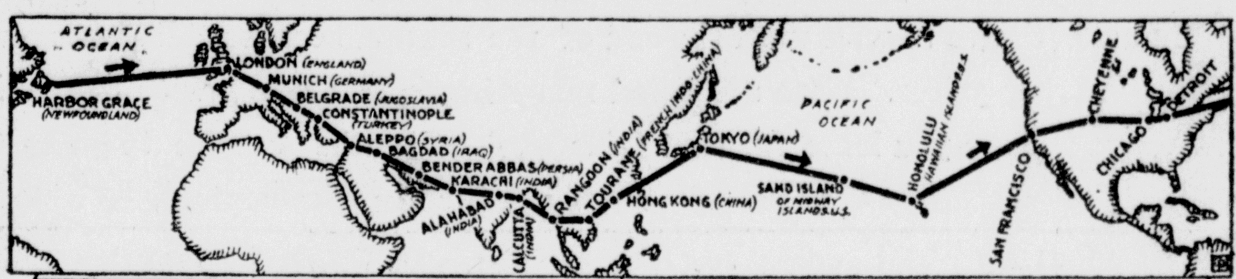

Pat Hutchison and William Smith, private detectives retained by Harris, said that no arrests were expected until he related the whole story. Harris today continued his accusations against Kent police officials, declaring that they have carried on a campaign of "persecution" against him for some time past. He also told deputy sheriffs that he recognized one of his abductors unmistakably by his voice.

Flooded

WARSAW, Sept. 1.—The death list in the flood and tornado which has swept over the rich oil fields of Galicia is estimated today at 100. Communication with the stricken area has been cut off and full details of the disaster are not yet obtainable.

Troops have been sent from Warsaw to establish a cordon around the oil fields near Boryslaw and to assist in the relief of the sufferers.

The devastated region lies between the San and Dniester rivers. The waters overflowing from these rivers have covered an area ten miles wide.

Fifteen towns are under water, the reports said, and the rich Galician oil fields have been extensively damaged.

A tornado accompanied the floods, adding to the devastation. Fires also broke out in several of the towns.

The waters of the Dniester, San and Strzy rivers rose twelve feet in one hour, sweeping away many bridges. Railroads throughout the district also were destroyed.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 1.—The federal government today has relinquished all of its air mail routes to private operation, approximately 50,000 witnesses, the transfer of the New York-Chicago line to the National Air Transport Company.

Simple ceremonies were participated in by C. F. Egge, federal superintendent of the eastern division of the air mail. W. R. Hopkins, city manager of Cleveland, and Col. Paul Henderson, general manager of the N. A. T. Company.

FIREMAN MURDERED ON TRAIN TRANSPORTING NON-UNION COAL

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Sept. 1.—Deputy sheriffs and railroad detectives today are scouring Belmont County for the murderers of A. J. McTea, 40, Wheeling, W. Va., fireman of a Baltimore and Ohio coal train who was shot while on duty aboard a train running between Flushing and Lafayette about three o'clock this morning.

Four hours after McTea was killed railroad detectives shot Mike Courtney, 22, Powhattan, in the leg when he attempted to flee from them, it was reported here.

It is believed the railroad men sought to interview Courtney in connection with McTea's killing.

The train on which McTea was firing, it is said, was carrying non-union West Virginia mined coal from Wheeling to the Great Lakes. Investigators reported that the shot that penetrated McTea's heart was fired from a 30-30 army rifle.

MANSFIELD PAPER TAKES BANKRUPTCY

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 1.—The Mansfield Daily Journal Co., Mansfield, O., publishers of the Mansfield Daily Journal, which suspended Monday, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in United States District Court here yesterday.

The petition listed assets of $95,049.12 and liabilities amounting to $79,728.29. Heading the liabilities are secured claims amounting to $40,732 and unsecured claims of $38,996.19. Assets included machinery and equipment valued at $61,325 and uncollected advertising bills totalling $26,000.

The Daily Journal has been in operation about three years, its inception resulting from a newspaper fight. The paper was financed by advertisers of the city and for the past year has been operated under a receivership. SURVEY WILL SHOW EFFECT OF BORER DRIVE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Whether the corn borer has been conquered in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, New York and Pennsylvania, under the stimulus of a $10,000,000 appropriation by congress, will not be definitely known until the department of agriculture has completed a survey of the infested area about Sept. 30, it was announced today.

Approximately 850 townships are being surveyed, involving five cornfields per township. Within each field a census is taken by experts experienced in locating the destructive borer.

When the campaign was authorized by congress the department considered eradication of the corn borer impossible. The spring cleanup campaign conducted in co-operation with state officials in the infested area was an intensive effort to slow down the natural spread of the borer into the corn belt and to delay commercial damage in territory already infested.

The results of the survey will show to what extent this campaign has been successful. Last year's survey showed an alarming increase in territory with the heavily infested regions on the shores of the great lakes.

PLANES LEAVE CANADA WITH ENGLAND GOAL

Royal Windsor And Sir
John Carling Both
Take Off

With the monoplane Sir John Carling in the air for its London, Ont., to London, Eng., flight and the Royal Windsor leaving Windsor, Ont., for Windsor, Eng., this morning, a race across the Atlantic is predicted.

The Sir John Carling started two hours before the Royal Windsor but is scheduled to stop at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, for refueling. This should make the start of the planes about even.

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 1.—The "Royal Windsor," carrying aviators Philip S. Wood and C. A. Schiller, hopped off from Walkerville Field at 9:17 this morning for a flight from this city to Windsor, Eng.

While the start was made several hours after the "Sir John Carling" hopped off at London, Ont., a trans-Atlantic race for the honor of being the first to span the Atlantic in the name of Canada seemed likely. Wood and Schiller were determined to make a non-stop flight while the "Sir John Carling" was to halt at Harbor Grace.

The "Royal Windsor's" destination is Windsor, Eng., but it will not land there. The aviators plan to drop greetings from the mayor of Windsor, Ont., and then continue the flight to Croyden.

Wood, a native of Duluth, Minn., served two years in France with the American Aviation Corps during the world war, and Schiller, who was born in Iowa, enlisted in the Royal Air Force when he was 18 years old and served throughout the world conflict. For the past three years he has been in the Aerial Forest Patrol.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 1.—Capt. Terry Tully and Lieut. James Metcalf hopped off for the second time from London, Ont., at 5:35 a. m. planning to land at Harbor Grace for refueling before attempting the ocean hop to the capital of the British Empire.

Captain Tully and Lieutenant Metcalf, planned to reach the Newfoundland coast before dark to night and wait until morning to resume their flight.

The second attempt of the London plane was witnessed by a vast crowd, despite the early hour. It was larger even than that on Monday, when the "Sir John Carling" was forced back after five hours by bad weather over Lake Ontario.

Tragedy was narrowly averted this morning, when a plane carrying a newsworld cameraman swooped down on the Crumlin Field at the very moment the "Sir John Carling" started down the runway. Neither pilot saw the other plane and a crash seemed imminent.

A mad dash in an automobile across the field succeeded in stopping the London plane until the intruder was out of the danger zone.

LEVINE DIRECTION DEPENDS ON WORD FROM WESTWARD FLIGHT

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Charles D. Levine today made arrangements for placing Captain W. R. Hinchcliffe formally under contract as pilot of the trans-Atlantic monoplane "Miss Columbia."

Levine, who plans to fly back to America, said that if no word was received by tomorrow morning from Lieut. Col. F. F. Minchin, Captain Leslie Hamilton and the Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim in their attempted trans-Atlantic flight, he would immediately start for America. If, on the other hand, word comes that the British fliers have reached their goal, he and Hinchcliffe will set out in the Columbia in an easterly direction, flying as long as their gasoline holds out.

T. Harold Kincaid, Wright Aeronautical Corporation expert, made an inspection of the Columbia today and pronounced it in condition for an immediate flight. The Imperial Airways, Ltd., is making all arrangements with the air ministry for the proposed hop-off from Farnwell Field.

POLICEMAN SHOT IN HEAD BY PRISONER; PRISONER WOUNDED

Patrolman Subdues Captive After He Is Wounded

FREMONT, O., Sept. 1.—One man is believed dying, and a policeman is in a serious condition as the result of a spectacular gun battle on the street here early today, when a prisoner, arrested by the officer, suddenly whipped out a gun and began firing at his captor.

Fred Strahl, a Fremont patrolman, suffered a bullet wound through the head, and the prisoner, S. P. Nathies, 38, of Fremont, is in Memorial Hospital with three bullets from the officer's gun through his abdomen.

Strahl had gone to the home of Nathies, arrested him on a charge of possessing liquor, and had started, to police headquarters in an automobile with his prisoner. En route, Nathies pulled a pistol and shot the officer through the head, as they sat on the front seat of the car. The bullet penetrated the policeman's skull, ranging downward and lodging in his jawbone.

But Strahl pulled his own gun, despite his wound, shot Nathies three times, and disarmed him. Then he sat on the running-board of the car and guarded the prisoner until other officers arrived and took charge.

Nothing Heard From Princess And Her Pilots Since They Passed Ireland—Fog Off Newfoundland Offers Obstacle.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Sept. 1.—A thick fog prevailed over the Atlantic off the Newfoundland coast today, placing a dangerous obstacle in the way of the British plane, St. Raphael, which is enroute for Canada from England, with pilots Capt. Leslie Hamilton and Lieut. Col. Frederick F. Minchin and the Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim aboard.

At 11:30 a. m. local time, the visibility was very poor and a cold northeast wind had been blowing since dawn. This wind however, was favorable for the flyers.

The steamship Silvia which arrived at mid-morning, reported no trace of the plane.

Signal fires were kept burning all night at the Harbor Grace air-drome.

OTTAWA, Can., Sept. 1.—All preparations have been made to receive Captain Hamilton, Lieut. Col. Minchin and the Princess Lowenstein when they arrive here this afternoon from England.

The royal Canadian mounted police has been assigned to Lindbergh B. where the fliers are scheduled to land, to handle the large crowd which is expected to be on hand.

Canadian air experts believe the plane will arrive between 2 and 4 o'clock this afternoon. The city is at a high pitch of excitement in anticipation of the arrival.

Mrs. Leslie Hamilton, wife of the pilot of the trans-Atlantic plane, was reported to be in seclusion under an assumed name at a local hotel. According to reports, Mrs. Hamilton, in order to avoid publicity, arrived in this city posing as the maid of a friend who traveled with her from New York.

By International News Service. Unless some mishap has occurred, three intrepid fliers, two men and a woman, today were winging their way across the Atlantic ocean in the Fokker monoplane St. Raphael, in a new attempt to bridge Europe and America by air.

The fliers are Captain Leslie Hamilton and Lieut. Col. F. F. Minchin of the British Royal Air Force, and the Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim, 62-year-old noblewoman and enthusiastic aviatrix.

Up until five o'clock this morning no word had been heard, either in Europe or America, of the plane since it passed over Inverness, on the western coast of Ireland at noon yesterday.

Assuming that good fortune is with the fliers, they should now have bridged three-quarters of the distance between Upavon, Wiltshire, England, which they left yesterday morning on one of the strangest aerial adventures ever attempted, and Ottawa, Can., the goal of their trans-Atlantic hopes.

If the St. Raphael maintains the speed of eighty miles an hour it made while its course was still traceable over England and Ireland, the fliers should reach Newfoundland after twenty-nine hours in the air. As the plane carried enough gasoline for forty hours of flying, this would leave nine hours of flying more than sufficient to carry them the remaining 650 miles to Ottawa.

According to the latest reports available, the weather over the 1,900 miles of sea the fliers had to traverse has been generally favorable. No severe storms have been reported, but it is believed that head winds prevail over the latter portion of the route. Over Newfoundland and Labrador, unsettled weather conditions are forecast, with northern and westerly winds and a dense fog.

It is not believed, however, that the fog curtain will offer any serious impediment to the fliers, for unless the temperature dropped so low that the danger of ice forming on the wings of the plane arose, Hamilton and Minchin could fly above the fog banks.

Equipped with 800 gallons of gasoline when it took off from the Upavon air-drome, the St. Raphael has a cruising time of almost forty hours. Provided the fliers have adhered to the great circle course they mapped out for themselves, and no unforeseen accident occurs, the fliers should find themselves over land soon after the sun rises this morning.

The total distance from Upavon to Ottawa is 2,920 miles.

The fliers, who surprised the world by their sudden take-off and the dramatic inclusion of the Princess as the first woman passenger ever to attempt a flight over the Atlantic ocean, are reported to have another startling adventure in store. If all goes well, and the St. Raphael glides down on Lindbergh field in Ottawa according to schedule, Minchin and Hamilton are understood to be planning a return flight to England after a rest of eight hours in the Canadian city.

If good fortune permits a successful completion of their hazardous adventure, Hamilton, Minchin and the princess will have scored the achievement of being the first ever to fly from Europe to America. The only two other attempts to cross the Atlantic from east to west met with failure. That of Captains Nungesser and Goll, the French war aces, met with disaster, for the fliers apparently dropped into the sea somewhere between Ireland and America. The other attempt, a double flight by the German Junkers plane Europa, piloted by Brehmer, ended a few hours after the start when the planes were forced to turn back because of adverse weather conditions.

Los Angeles, Sept. 1.—Ad Wolgast, former lightweight champion of the world, will emerge from obscurity to face a strange audience here next Tuesday. On that date he will appear before the county lunacy commission.

Friends of Wolgast say he is "punch gooly" as a result of the terrific beatings he took in the days of his prime. Of late, it is said, Wolgast has been living in the shadows of his old glory. He had been training vigorously under the delusion he was slated for a return match with Joe Rivers.

It was in 1912 that Wolgast fought his famous fight with the Mexican lightweight. Both fighters were knocked out, the decision going to Wolgast. This and other fights, notably his 42-round affair with Battling Nelson, is believed to have affected his mind.

Wolgast is only thirty-nine years old. Since 1922 he has been the ward of Jack Doyle, boxing promoter. The sporting fraternity of Los Angeles is heart sick over the veteran fighter's condition.

CONGRESSMAN BEGG BOOSTS LONGWORTH AS POLITICAL BOSS

Exclusive Central Dispatch to The Evening Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1. — If Nicholas Longworth happens to be the Republican presidential nominee next year, and more particularly if he happens to be elected, watch Congressman James T. Beggs of Ohio.

JAMES T. BEGGS

Longworth wouldn't be a presidential possibility but for his speakership so in case he is elected, watch Congressman James T. Beggs of Ohio. Longworth is a speaker of the house of representatives.

For that matter, he's a power now. He isn't, mind, a congressman of such long standing, in point of service. He didn't rise to his position of near-omnipotence in the house of representatives by the slow process of gradual advancement, as most of 'em do.

He's comparatively a young man—only barely fifty—and will only start, with the coming session, on his fifth term.

That isn't much, compared with lawmakers like Representatives Garner, Poin, Haugen, Butler and Cooper, who already have served, respectively, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen and sixteen terms. It isn't even much compared with Longworth, who'll start on his twentieth term next December.

A congressman with only four or five terms behind him ordinarily counts only as a youngster, whom it behooves to keep quiet and do as he's told.

Beggs knew this as well as anybody, but he didn't like the idea of waiting until he was gray before becoming a boss.

So what should occur to him but the speakership?—which fell vacant two years ago, when the Hon. Frederick H. Gillett was moved up to the senate from the chair of the upper house—and he said himself he was very doubtful if it was in the nature of a promotion or not.

Beggs, remember, was only finishing his third term—a mere congressional child—as Gillett laid down the gavel.

He couldn't grab the job for his very own. Not that he had any doubts about his ability to make good, but it was a cinch he couldn't get the votes, the time not having yet arrived when he could secure what he wanted by main strength, as he does now.

But he calculated, maybe, he could put the thing across for Longworth, who was eligible, popular and easy going—just the kind of speaker Beggs believed would suit his purposes, if he could manage to create one.

Well, Beggs's a good manager for fair, and he did it. Everybody gives him credit for it. Nick's a dandy man for the place, at that, and all he needed was somebody to furnish the ginger for his campaign. That's what Beggs had nothing else but.

Result—Beggs's assistant Republican house manager now, and gives orders to congressmen who've served twice and three times as long as he has.

He undoubtedly could have been in the senate next time if he'd liked, but he has more fun where he is. He's flirting somewhat at present with the Ohio Republican 1928 governorship nomination, but if Longworth looks like a good presidential bet, imagine he won't feel like tying himself down to any single state.

Mighty few men come to Washington who give the impression of knowing so exactly what they're after, and so well how to annex it as Congressman Jim Beggs, of Sandusky.

DRIVER INJURED AS AUTO HITS BRIDGE

Unfamiliar with the pike and failing to notice a sharp curve, Bart Riley, Wilmington, was seriously injured when he drove a new Essex sedan into the abutment of the Pennsylvania Railroad overhead bridge on the Springfield and Xenia pike, two miles north of Xenia near Old Town, at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday night.

Riley sustained several broken ribs and was painfully bruised about the body. His machine overturned and was wrecked.

Riley and Harry Carey, also of Wilmington, were driving two new Essex cars through to that city. Riley was in the lead and was thought by his companion to have been so overcome by sleepiness that he probably failed to see either the bridge or the abrupt curve beneath it.

He was brought to Xenia by Carey and given medical attention by Dr. George Davis, after which he was able to return home.

Farm Notes

COWS EARN KEEP

More than 1100 cows in Ohio can now consider themselves cows in good standing. During July the milk they produced tested forty pounds of butterfat or better, more than double the monthly record of the average Ohio cow.

These 1163 cows, to be exact, are the honor cows among 7162 cows whose milk and butterfat records are kept by members of twenty-six Ohio cow testing associations in co-operation with county agricultural agents and the agricultural college extension service at the Ohio State University. Cow testing associations aim to help their members cut milk production costs by discovering, through exact records, which cows are good producers and which ones should be fired.

A registered Jersey owned by Marshall and Whittington of Ashland County led the list in July in butterfat production. Her record was 89.1 pounds, equivalent to 107 pounds of butter.

In milk production, however, a registered Holstein owned by Firestone Farm of Columbiana County led all others. Her milk production was 2399 pounds, or nearly 1,200 quarts.

The Medina County cow testing association in July had the largest number of cows producing forty pounds or more of butterfat, sixty-eight achieving that record. The Ashland County Association was a close second with sixty-seven.

An association that has members in Geauga, Lake, and Portage Counties reported fifty-five cows producing 1200 pounds or more of milk in July. The Ashland County group was second with forty-eight.

PHYSICIANS APPROVE SCHOOL OPENING-APPOINT COMMITTEE

Representing the Greene County Medical Society, a committee of three physicians will confer with the Xenia City Board of Education Thursday night regarding the crisis which has been created by the epidemic of acute poliomyelitis or infantile paralysis, which is sweeping through Ohio.

Although Xenia and Greene County are free of the malady so far as is known, school authorities wish to co-operate with medical and health heads in the efforts to stamp out the epidemic, and for that reason, Superintendent Harding C. Pendry asked doctors holding their September meeting here Thursday for advice regarding the situation.

The medical society passed a resolution recommending the opening of schools as usual, but advising the appointment of a medical inspector, as a protection against an outbreak of epidemic disease, of any nature.

Dr. R. E. McClellan, Dr. R. H. Grube and Dr. T. F. Myler of the O. S. and S. O. Home, were appointed by the medical society as a committee to meet the education board at its regular meeting Thursday night.

Both Dr. McClellan and Superintendent Pendry said that the physicians and school board will attempt to conceive some workable plan by which the schools may be opened on schedule time next week, and at the same time, any appearance of the malady in Xenia promptly detected and taken care of.

So far, Grandview Heights, Columbus suburb, is the only municipality that has decided to postpone the opening of schools because of the epidemic. Schools in that village will not be opened until a week from the regular date.

Superintendent Pendry said that he personally believes that the disease can be controlled more readily if the children are in school, than if they are allowed to run at large.

A paper by Dr. R. H. Grube, Greene County health commissioner, and a general discussion of infantile paralysis featured the Thursday morning meeting of the medical society. Dr. Grube's paper was entitled, "Acute Epidemic Anterior Poliomyelitis."

Dr. R. E. McClellan lead the discussion, and most of the physicians took part generally in the discussion which followed. Symptoms, management and treatment of the malady were discussed.

A number of visiting doctors attended the meeting, including: Dr. Booker, Bayer, Woodburn, Ludlow Wolf, Hauser, of Urbana, and J. H. Harris of Clifton.

The company has secured from the patentee, Charles Burnett, of Washington, C. H., exclusive rights to manufacture his patent hog feeding device, which has been on the market for the last three years. It is now being manufactured by Jesse Thompson of Washington, C. H., and will continue to be made in the same plant under the new ownership.

Mr. James said Thursday that he was unable to say whether or not the factory would be moved to Xenia.

The business was incorporated for 250 shares non par stock. Mr. Steel is head of the Xenia Hatcheries on Washington St., and Mr. James is sales manager for the Xenia Fertilizer Company.

Both are experienced men. Mr. Steel was formerly engaged extensively as a hog raiser in Chillicothe. Mr. James was formerly a salesman for mineral hog feeding products.

The hog feeding device which they are putting out is said to have nothing its equal on the market, and the local men are enthusiastic over the prospects for the future of the company. A date for an organization meeting has not yet been set.

Mr. Robert Owens is taking a vacation from his work at the Criterion clothing store, and is accompanying his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Comer and their daughter, Jean, of Dayton, on a motor trip to Chicago.

His speech followed a picnic for members of the lodge and their families in the afternoon. In the evening at 8 o'clock, an outdoor motion picture show was presented under auspices of Xenia Camp. The evening performance was free to the public.

Five reels of motion pictures were shown and the program included three films, "The Hour Glass," "On the Go," and "The Orphans."

ROUTE MOTORISTS THROUGH THIS CITY

Dayton motorists are being advised by the Dayton Auto Club to drive through Xenia in preference to other routes on their way to attend the Ohio State Fair at Columbus this week.

Motorcycle Policeman Peter Shagin is joining with the Dayton auto club in the warning to motorists to drive carefully if the trip is made through the towns of South Vienna and West Jefferson, as drivers are being arrested at both places for speeding.

Their speed limit is fifteen miles an hour in the business section and twenty-five miles an hour in the residential districts.

Paul E. Ackerman, secretary of the Dayton club, suggests that the route through Xenia, South Charleston and London is a good one and drivers will find less restrictions.

POLICE CHIEFS TO OPEN SERIES BETWEEN RESERVES AND COPS

Reserves and Dayton Police have arranged to play a series of three games, commencing Sunday afternoon at Washington Park, to definitely settle the question of superiority on the diamond this season.

These teams have engaged in no less than three battles already this year with the Police having the edge by one game.

XENIA GOLFERS WIN FROM WILMINGTON; IS THIRD VICTORY

The Xenia Country Club continued its unbroken string of victories in inter-city golf matches this season, by sweeping golfers of the Hill Country Club of Wilmington 43 to 11, Nassau count, in a match over the local course Wednesday afternoon.

The defeat was the second administered by Xenia to Wilmington this year.

John Lamb, Wilmington professional, in an exhibition match, shot the two rounds in seventy-eight.

Crawford, Xenia golfer, turned in a fine eighty-one for the eighteen holes, the lowest score of the match.

Perry, Wilmington player, shot an eighty-three to lead the visiting team, and received as a prize for his feat, half a dozen golf balls.

Forty-four players participated in the match, twenty-two representing each club.

The weather was fine and sunny and the ideal conditions resulted in a number of good scores being recorded.

Golfers of both teams were served dinner at the club house following the match.

Xenia's next inter-city match is at Middletown next Wednesday afternoon. This will probably be the final one of the season. The local club has won three straight matches, including one victory over Middletown on the Xenia links.

JAMESTOWN WANTS TO PLAY BAYLIFFS THREE GAME SERIES

Jamestown's baseball team is issuing a challenge to the Bowersville Bayliffs for a three-game series.

The Jamestown management suggests that the winner take all of the gate receipts and that $50 be posted for each game.

Both Jamestown and Bowersville are members of the Triangle League, with the Bayliffs having a better place in the standing.

Jamestown is confident of its superiority over Bowersville.

Bowersville defeated Jamestown in a league game 2 to 2 last Sunday, but errors contributed to the defeat. With better fielding, Jamestown would have won 2 to 1.

Glass pitched a fine game for Jamestown and had nine strikeouts to his credit. Besides the Jamestown twirler also starred at bat, obtaining two hits, one a triple.

Sport Ritticisms by BILL RITT

Ten thousand sport writers heaved a sigh of relief when Molla lost her tennis title. They don't have to spell Bjurstedt so often now.

The trouble with the Dempsey-Turney fight is that it isn't getting enough publicity.

Cleveland wrestling match lasted only five minutes, but the fans missed the finish because they had been asleep for four.

Stanley Harris, Washington manager, didn't get a hit in twenty-nine times at bat. Another thing to blame on the lively ball, we suppose.

Speeding taxi tears off New York man's pants. The pedestrian was lucky the driver didn't charge him for valet service.

The harvest moon may still be a long way off, but the Yanks have already gathered in the crops.

Gene Tunney refuses to be photographed doing menial tasks. But this does not include mopping up the ring with Dempsey.

Though Connie Mack spent eight years in the cellar, he hasn't laid the foundation for a pennant winner yet.

EXPENSIVE DUCKS LAND IN COURT

Fred Dale, of near Wilberforce, is determined to recover five ducks he alleges were stolen from him by James Nance, colored, Wilberforce.

Dale first started criminal proceedings against Nance in the court of R. O. Copey, justice of the peace, Wednesday, and Nance was apprehended by Constable Lewis Moss. On motion of the defendant, the case was dismissed by the court.

Dale immediately instituted a replevin suit against Nance for recovery of the ducks, and the hearing was set for Thursday. Dale claims Nance is holding the ducks unlawfully and identified the ducks when they were brought into court.

It is estimated the ducks will cost considerable more than their original value before they cease to be the subject of litigation.

JOE HAGLER TAKES STATE FAIR SPEED EVENT WITH TROTTER

Missing Wonder, by Missing Bell, carrying the colors of William Irwin, Lebanon, O., and piloted by Joe Hagler, Xenia trainer, repeated its straight heat victory, scored at the Greene County Fair races in August, by taking the 2:16 trot and $1,000 purse in decisive fashion at the Ohio State Fair Wednesday in the opening race, defeating a small field.

Hagler has enjoyed great success with the sterling trotter this season. Missing Wonder's latest triumph was also in straight heats. The trotter's time in each heat was 2:11 1/2, 2:09 1/2 and 2:13 1/4.

Entered in the 2:18 trot at the Greene County Fair, the Irwin horse won easily in each of the three heats without being forced to faster time than 2:15 1/4.

Prince Bivlinville, by Fogwell, Oshorn, for Samuel Rogers, Springfield, O., finished second and third, respectively, in the two heats of the two-year-old trot for the Secretary of State $1,500 purse at the state fair Wednesday.

FILLING STATION SOLD TO CARROLL-BINDER COMPANY

Purchase of The Courtesy Drive-In gasoline filling station at Fairground Ave., and N. Detroit St., was announced Thursday by The Carroll-Binder Co., 108 E. Main St.

The purchase was made from the Sinclair Refining Co., Dayton, O. Jacob Colp, station manager, who was connected with the White Rock Oil Co., erected the station on its present site two and one-half years ago, but leased the property and equipment to the Dayton Refining company about two months ago.

The deal was closed Thursday morning, and the new owners expect to open for business immediately.

The purchase was considered necessary because of the necessity for expansion of the Carroll-Binder Co., to care for increased business, which could not be handled adequately at the E. Main St. station. The newly-acquired station will be known under the firm name and plans are progressing for a number of alterations and improvements that will make the branch modern in all departments, paying especial attention to women drivers.

The station now has three pumps and it is planned to add two more to supply better service. The station will handle Caldwell-Taylor's Benzol, Indian gas and Refiner's Ethyl gas.

Extensive remodeling work will be done, a new front constructed, new equipment installed and the building converted into a more attractive station.

How to Achieve Beauty

By

Mme. Helena Rubinstein
Renowned Beauty Specialist

MME. RUBINSTEIN

The screen, the stage, the pictorial magazines bring us the pageant of lovely women and the desire to be beautiful. Beauty of skin and body not only for today, but inevitable tomorrow, is the great desire.

Mme. Rubinstein has devoted years to a constant study and search for the simplest and most effective means of cultivating complexion beauty.

RHEUMATISM

May be relieved by rational treatment—it can not be rubbed away.

Are you one of those unfortunate who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, commonly called rheumatism, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep? You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 400 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried almost everything. Went to Hot Springs, then finally decided to try S.S.S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S.S.S. is the best." Earl C. Campbell, 415 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

From youth to later years S.S.S. is a proven tonic—give it and take it where a tonic is indicated.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

TRANS-OCEANIC FLIGHTS "SOLD" AVIATION

AT THE TOP IS THE LATEST AIR MAP OF THE UNITED STATES, SHOWING ROUTES ALREADY IN OPERATION, AND THOSE PLANNED. BELOW, ON THE LEFT, POSTMASTER GENERAL NEW INSPECTING THE LATEST MODEL MAIL PLANE, AND ON THE RIGHT, HAZELHURST AIRPORT, NEW YORK. INSET, AN AIR BEACON IN THE HEART OF THE ALLEGHENIES.

NOTE—This is the first of a series of three articles by Charles P. Stewart on the developments of aviation in the United States, following the Lindbergh, Chamberlin and other transoceanic flights. The second will deal with the army's relationship to aviation, and the third with aviation from the naval viewpoint.

Central Press, Washington Bureau
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The Evening Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Colonel Lindbergh's flight meant just this to American commercial aviation:

Aviation is "sold" now, to the country. If the transaction needed clinching, Chamberlin, Byrd and Maitland clinched it.

This is how the situation is viewed by such captains of the industry to Colonel Paul Henderson, head of National Air Transport, Ltd.

Yes, industry, Colonel Henderson's interest in aviation's commercial, so, to him, it's an industry. The first of the year American commercial aviation was ahead of its times.

Its apostles conceived it as their mission—they were right about it then—to educate the public up to it. This looked like slow work. Aviation development promised to be correspondingly slow, due to lack of encouragement.

Lindbergh's super-salesmanship changed the outlook over night. Today the popular demand is perhaps greater than aviation can immediately prove itself equal to.

Accelerated Development
Henderson is glad of it. It spells the difference, he says, between retarded development and accelerated development. He wants popular expectation to set a pace which aviation will have to hustle to keep up with.

Lindbergh, Chamberlin and Byrd having made the sale, it remains for America's Colonel Henderson to fill the order.

The colonel is losing no time about it. Lindy's record wasn't many hours old before Henderson was in Washington, in conference with Postmaster General New relative to a further broadening, through private enterprise, of the air mail service.

It is, in part, through teamwork between the postoffice and private flying agencies that American aviation is to be stimulated.

Hitherto the department has largely operated its own planes, thus cutting off private companies from considerable sources of business and revenue which they needed, to prosper.

But, now, mail-carrying contracts are being let by the government to such concerns as National Air Transport, assuring them an important nucleus of traffic, as with stage lines in the old days and with railroads later.

The postoffice, by the way, is one American institution which hasn't lagged in the field of aviation. Colonel Henderson himself, as assistant postmaster general, before he retired to engage in the commercial flying industry, built it up to a point where it was able to challenge competition with any of the heavily-subsidized lines of the old world.

Against Subsidy
"Not," adds the colonel, "that we want a subsidy here, but it stands to reason that a European company, with approximately seventy per cent of its expenses paid by its government, can afford better transportation rates than are possible in America, where the industry must be self-sustaining."

"For the same reason passenger-carrying by air is more general abroad than in the United States—on a subsidized line comparatively low fares are possible."

"The backbone of our business necessarily is express traffic."

"Our fares are unavoidably too high for any volume of passenger travel. In the matter of correspondence we must compete with the telegraph and telephone. The plane naturally is not adapted to moving heavy non-perishable freight."

"But when it comes to handling sides. In America it takes a different direction, because of the absence of them."

NURSES AT FUNERAL OF MISS PITSTICK

Six uniformed nurses from Good Samaritan Hospital, Cincinnati, served as pall bearers at the funeral services for Miss Viola Pitstick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pitstick, Ross Twp., Wednesday.

Solemn requiem high mass was celebrated at the church at 10:30 o'clock with the Rev. Father Edward McGinty, pastor, as celebrant; the Rev. David Powers, Xenia, deacon; the Rev. Thomas Cairns, Lebanon, sub-deacon. The Rev. Frank Varley, West Jefferson, sang the Mass.

A dozen nurses from the Cincinnati hospital attended the services and the honorary pall bearers were Misses Rosemary Robinson, Dayton; Mary Beck, Covington, Ky.; Betty Ryan, Cincinnati; Clara Fisher, Celina; Virginia Feirtag, Milford and Marie Fagan, Springfield. Burial was made in the Catholic Cemetery here.

AUTOS DAMAGED IN COLLISION TUESDAY

Passengers in both cars escaped injury when a coupe driven by William Mooney, Lebanon, O., and also occupied by his wife, was damaged after colliding with a car driven by John Ankeney, of Ankeney and Weaver battery station, this city, at Dayton Ave., and Orange Sts., Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

Police Chief M. E. Graham, who lived nearby, investigated the crash and declared Mooney told him he became lost while trying to reach the Cincinnati Pike. Mooney did not stop the car at the intersection and the machine was whirled around and a front wheel broken down. Ankeney was driving south down the hill. The coupe was taken to Gordon Brothers garage for repairs.

QUIETNESS

..... and Smooth Running

"The quietest balloon I ever used." So one car owner told us about the NEW Goodyear All-Weather Balloon. And this tire IS quiet—quiet and smooth running. It rides on its sturdy shoulder ribs with no objectionable rumble, vibration, or loss of power.

Eighty treads were actually made up and tested in road service before this tread was adopted because it was quiet, yet had traction, safety and long wear.

Whether you need tires now or not—see Goodyear's NEW balloon tire. Let us explain why it is the World's Greatest Tire.

The Theater

Florenz Ziegfeld, master picker of feminine beauty, has achieved another success with his twenty-first edition of the "Follies" it has become known through such indisputable mediums as Time and The New Yorker. Both herald the new revue with many pretty compliments.

Eddie Cantor, Ruth Etting, Irene Delroy, Helen Brown and haunting lyrics of which "Blue Skies" is one of the best, are highlights in the new production. The settings are by the master, Joseph Urban and John Harbizer did the costumes, what there is of them, although it must be remembered that the Follies are not classed with the usual "nude" shows.

This fact led to the dispute last season between Mr. Ziegfeld and George White, producer of the Scandals, which at that time was the greatest attraction in Manhattan. Ziegfeld had come out with an unsolicited attack upon the "nude" shows during the height of censorship against The Captive, The Virgin Man, Sex and other productions.

Nine years ago White was hooding in the Follies and left to produce his own show. The production met with slight success and Ziegfeld, annoyed by the attempt at competition, wired White an offer to go back in the Follies at an ignominious salary. White retaliated by offering Ziegfeld's wife, Billie Burke, a place in his next show at an even more ignominious salary. Thus the feeling between the two developed into a feud.

Time finds even deeper cause for this situation in the fact that Ziegfeld and Whites and for different principles in revue production. White is champion of the idea that a revue should consist of snappy acts punctuated for relief by chorus girls. Ziegfeld is exemplar without fear of the principle that a revue should be a spectacle, punctuated for relief by snappy acts.

Reviewers of the new Manhattan entertainment, favored "Allez-Op," and "A la Carte" and did not feel so badly about "Tenth Avenue" in which acting makes

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. MELISSA REDFERN

Mrs. Melissa Redfern, a well known resident of Xenia for many years, died at her home, 302 W. Main St., at 7:25 o'clock, Wednesday night. She had been in ill health for about a year, and for the last two weeks her condition was critical.

Mrs. Redfern was born in Waynesville, the daughter of Gabriel and Susan Phillips, and was one of a family of eleven children. She spent the earlier part of her life in Waynesville, before removing to Xenia.

Four grand children survive: the Misses Wilfred Zartman and Dorothy Bocklett of Xenia; Jason Jr., and Lynne Jean Redfern, two nephews and ten nieces.

Private funeral services will be held at the home, probably Saturday, definite arrangements awaiting the arrival of Mrs. Miller, daughter of Mrs. Redfern, who is expected to reach Xenia Thursday night or Friday.

The family of the young man, who had been away from Xenia since last February, was notified of his death by the commander of the American Legion post in that city. The body was brought to Xenia Wednesday by R. M. Neeld, funeral director.

Mrs. Walsh enlisted in the service in 1917, and saw active duty with the A. E. F. He was injured in the service and never completely regained his health. He served a year with the army of occupation in Germany, following the war.

Surviving him are his father, and the following brothers and sisters: Daniel Leo of Cincinnati; Mrs. John O'Conner, Xenia; Mrs. Deward Derrick of Dayton; the Misses Mary and Alice of Springfield, and Miss Gertrude who lives with her father here.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY BEFORE JUDGE HERE

Brice Williams, colored, Springfield, pleaded not guilty to a charge of reckless driving proffered by Howard Sanford, colored, Clifton Pike, before Probate Judge S. C. Wright Wednesday.

His hearing was set for Wednesday, September 7 at 1 o'clock. His bail was fixed at $100 and Williams was released. The bond was signed by Williams and his wife.

The Springfield man was arrested and returned to Xenia by Sheriff Obner Tate following an auto accident on the Springfield Pike Sunday night in which Williams' coupe was overturned after crashing with a touring car driven by Sanford. The autos were traveling in opposite directions.

SUSPECT IN MURDER CASE IS RELEASED

Harold Burton, 19, colored, Lebanon, held at Police Headquarters as a suspect in connection with the shooting of a Cleveland policeman, was released Wednesday morning when he failed to measure up to a description of the man being sought.

Burton was removed from a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train Tuesday night by Railroad Detective Lincum who caught him stealing a ride.

The detective took him to Police Headquarters and thinking he was the man wanted for the Cleveland shooting, notified J. I. Cosby, Cincinnati, lieutenant of railroad police.

Cosby informed the detective Burton was taller and about thirty pounds lighter than the man for whom authorities are searching.

Burton denied to Police Chief M. E. Graham that he had been in Cleveland but declared he had been in Youngstown, Toledo and other nearby cities and was making his way to Cincinnati when arrested.

AROUND THE TOADSTOOL TABLE

The smooth, shiny thing might have been an umbrella, but it wasn't. Peter had gone but a few steps when he stopped to laugh at himself. "Oh, dear, I shall never get used to being little! Just because I am no taller than Tor-

YOU DON'T SIT DOWN AT YOUR MEALS, DO YOU, TORTOISE?" ASKED THE BOY.

Use that thing seemed high to me. An umbrella! Ha, Ha! How could I have been so stupid? This nothing but a common toadstool!

Now, Peter had expressed his opinion to no one at all, hadn't he? He might hear him—and he was very much surprised when Jack-in-the-Box turned his head to glare at him, and snapped:

"Crk! Common Toadstool, indeed! It is not common, it is most delicious. And I am going to chew it to the very stem!"

"Chew what? The Toadstool?" cried the Boy, but now Tortoise deliberately turned his back upon Peter. Peter, however, by this time, had gotten used to his quick tempered friend. He hurried to Tortoise's side.

"What are you?"—Peter began, and then had no need to ask what the Tortoise was doing. He saw, and the sight made his eyes pop out and for just a moment he gasped. But never for long did the Boy lose his voice, and now he cried:

"Why, you are chewing the Toadstool, Jack-in-the-Box—eating it all up. How funny you look pacing around the stem and nibbling from the top!"

"My Toadstool table," muttered Tortoise. "A table, sure enough!" cried Peter. "But you don't sit down to your meals, do you?"

Tortoise shook his head. "No," muttered he, his mouth full, "I don't. I walk around slowly, of course, but still I keep on the move."

"And you not only eat from your table—you eat of it!" laughed the Boy.

Tortoise chuckled.

"There will not be much table left when I am through. You see, I bite off a piece, chew it until I have gotten all the juice and then spit it out like this!"

Jack-in-the-Box dropped the chewed fiber upon the ground as he spoke.

"Then I take another bite, and another, and another, always from the outer rim and next to the piece I took last. The Toadstool table grows smaller and smaller until I have bitten it off to the very stem!"

Next—"Tortoise's Meat is a Two-Leg's Poison."

Sally's Shoulders

by BEATRICE BURTON, Author of

"HER MAN"
"HONEY LOU"
"THE HOLLYWOOD"
"GIRL," ETC.

"The men are all alike," she wailed.

READ THIS FIRST:

SALLY JEROME, pretty and clever, is the mainstay of her family in the absence of her father, who does not live with her mother. MRS. JEROME enjoys poor health so Sally does the housework mornings and office work in the afternoon. BEAU and MILLIE, her brother and sister, give almost nothing toward the upkeep of the house. Occasionally Mr. Jerome sends some money. The real load falls upon Sally's shoulders.

In the flat below the Jeromes lives TED SLOAN, who is in love with Sally. But the only man who interests her is JOHN NYE, whose office is across the hall from Mr. Peewee's office, where Sally works. Nye is infatuated with Millie, who is his secretary. Millie says that she likes him and his money, but she really prefers a bond salesman named DAVIDSON.

Beau borrows some money from the bank where he works and Sally has to find the money to pay it back. Then Beau brings with MABEL, WILLIOT and drops her home to live.

Millie goes to the hospital for an operation and John Nye pays her expenses there. In the meantime Sally works for John Nye, and when Mr. Peewee retired from business, Nye offers her a steady job. She refuses it, and goes into the seaside inn business with her AUNT EMILY JEROME. She is hurt because Millie has told her that John laughed at some things she did for him.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER LII

SALLY said that she was trembling with fury or some other powerful emotion. She was actually shaking all over as if she had a chill. But no fever could have painted her cheeks more scarlet or lit brighter flames in her eyes.

"What on earth has happened?" Sally asked, wondering what John Nye could have done to make Millie look as she was looking now.

Suddenly she burst into tears.

"The men are all alike," she sobbed out, and then choked up for a moment.

Sally had heard her say exactly that thing, two or three times before, when she had quit her job and walked out of an office.

Always her story had been the same story—that some man or other had "got fresh" or "acted fresh" with her.

And now she was saying that all the men were alike. Did that mean that John Nye, too, had "got fresh" and "acted smart?" Sally wondered, and as she wondered, that dull ache in her heart seemed to become more painful than ever—like an old wound.

"John Nye's no better than anyone of the rest of them—Bursall or Judkins, or any of the rest!" Millie finished on a long-drawn sobbing breath.

And, looking the very picture of injured innocence, in spite of her too-tight, too-gay, too-short clothes, she got up from her chair and went slowly up the stairs.

"Nice thing, isn't it?" asked Sally indignantly of Mabel, when the sound of Millie's door closing and the key turning in the lock came down to them through the quiet house.

"Yes, but is it true?" asked Mabel with a little smile that said whole volumes. "If Millie got peevish because John Nye made love to her the way Bursall at our office used to, it's the first time in her life she ever did get peevish about a man making love to her. . . . No just paste that in your head her thoughtfully.

After all, Mabel knew Millie better than she herself knew her. She had worked with her day in and day out for a long time—and the pair of them had run around together for months, after office hours.

"I tell you, Millie never walked out of Nye's office because he showed her that he was crazy about her," Mabel went on as she followed Sally back to her kitchen. "Take it from me, she walked out on him for some reason that she's not telling us, old kid! I'm going to find out about it, though, if it takes me a year!"

Early in the afternoon, while Millie was alone upstairs, she came down to the kitchen where Sally and Aunt Em were cutting up chickens and covering them with flour for would be home in about 45 minutes, and Mabel would arrive 15 minutes after him, she figured. . . . And Mabel must not see the girl!

She turned and rushed upstairs to get dressed. "I'll have to see her when she comes," she thought anxiously, "and get rid of her before Mabel gets home!"

Once more the telephone rang, and she ran down stairs to answer it, hoping that by some lucky chance it might be Beau's lady love again.

But it was only a Western Union girl to read a telegram from Mrs. Jerome: "Send me a hundred dollars right away, and get a room ready for your father; bringing him home right away. Mother."

DAYTON ENGINEERS BUILDING FAST CAR AS RECORD BREAKER

DAYTON, O., Sept. 1.—Auto-mobile engineers and technical data men are working over plans here for the production of an automobile which will break the world's speed record, now held by Major Seagraves, of Great Britain.

The machine will be built by the Stutz Motor Car Company of Indianapolis and it is expected that Frank Lockhart, racing driver, will pilot it over the same straightway course at Daytona Beach, Florida, where Major Seagraves drove his "mystery car" at 203.79 miles per hour.

Although the Stutz Company is keeping the actual details of the new motor a secret, it is known that the car will be completed by January 1, 1928.

CANADA AWAITS ARRIVAL OF FLYERS

GERMAN SWIMMER WINS PRIZE ST. RAPHAEL EXPECTED TO LAND BETWEEN 2-4 P. M. THURSDAY

VIERKOETTER WILL RECEIVE $30,000; CRAMPS STOP YOUNG

Baker Covers Route In Eleven Hours—Frenchman Second

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 1.—For his spectacular achievement in winning the Canadian national twenty-one mile marathon swim, Ernst Vierkoetter, German swimmer, today will receive the $30,000 cash prize offered by William Wrigley, Jr., of Chicago.

The gruelling swim, the second sponsored by the Chicago millionaire, was won by Vierkoetter last night when he crossed the finish line and clambered out of the cold water without assistance after swimming for eleven hours, forty-two minutes and twelve seconds.

Taking the lead from George Young, winner of the Catalina marathon, the first long-distance swim that Wrigley financed, Vierkoetter kept well in advance of the pack of thirty-one swimmers throughout the afternoon and evening. Two hundred contestants started. When his strong, steady strokes carried Vierkoetter victoriously to the finish line, his nearest rival, Georges Michel, French channel swimmer, was two miles in the rear. Michel finished in second place after 16 hours and 12 minutes in the water, winning the secondary prize of $7,500.

William Erickson of New York, the only other fisher, came in at 3:30 this morning.

Young, whose smashing victory in the Catalina swim made him a serious contender in the Toronto race, was seized with an attack of cramps shortly after he had passed the four-mile mark and was taken out of the race. One by one many of the other favorites were forced to drop out as the strain of swimming through the chill, choppy water of Lake Ontario became too much for them.

Miss Lottie Moore Schoemmel, New York City swimming teacher, was eleven miles from the finishing point when she was forced to drop out. The first two hours of the race took a toll of sixty of the entrants, who found the combination of cold water and chilly air too much for them. The race was a sure victory for Vierkoetter from the time he passed Young, for his steady stroke and minute speed did not diminish and he entered the final lap of the triangular course seemingly as fresh as when he started.

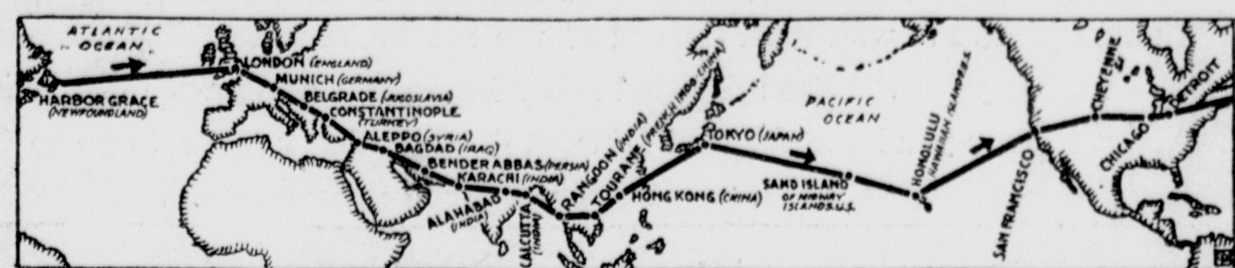

Vierkoetter was accorded a tremendous ovation as he emerged from the water. He waved in response to the cheering populace, and was taken on the shoulders of the crowd like a football hero.

Copenders who were forced to drop out included Arthur Compton, the fourteen-year-old boy from Long Beach, Cal., who had completed sixteen miles of the gruelling swim, and Miss Ethel Hertle, of New York, who was forced to quit because of leg cramps.

Martha Stager, of Portland, Ore.; Edith Hedin, of Toronto; Von Papenfus, of South Africa; and Henry Sullivan, famous swimmer of Lowell, Mass., also were taken from the water last evening. Sullivan was in eighth place when he quit.

FLOOD AND TORNADO IN GALICIA OIL FIELDS TAKE DEATH TOLL OF 100, SAID

DISASTER STRIKES POLAND WITH HEAVY PROPERTY DAMAGES

Devastated Region Cut Off—Fifteen Towns Flooded

WARSAW, Sept. 1.—The death list in the flood and tornado which has swept over the rich oil fields of Galicia is estimated today at 100. Communication with the stricken area has been cut off and full details of the disaster are not yet obtainable.

Troops have been sent from Warsaw to establish a cordon around the oil fields near Boryslaw and to assist in the relief of the sufferers.

The devastated region lies between the San and Dniester rivers. The waters overflowing from these rivers have covered an area ten miles wide.

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—Thirty persons are dead and 1,500 homeless as a result of floods that have inundated a large area of the province of Galicia, Poland, according to reports from Warsaw today.

Fifteen towns are under water, the reports said, and the rich Galician oil fields have been extensively damaged.

A tornado accompanied the floods, adding to the devastation. Fires also broke out in several of the towns.

The waters of the Dniester, San and Stryl rivers rose twelve feet in one hour, sweeping away many bridges. Railroads throughout the district also were destroyed.

FLOGGERS' VICTIM LEAVES HOSPITAL

AKRON, O., Sept. 1.—Alfred Harris, furniture dealer, of Kent, who says he was kidnapped by a band of eight masked men while working in his store last Tuesday morning, today was to be taken from city hospital here to show authorities of Summit and Portage counties, special investigators, and Kent police the exact spot where, according to his story, he was beaten and thrown from an automobile.

Pat Hutchison and William Smith, private detectives retained by Harris, said that no arrests were expected until he related the whole story. Harris today continued his accusations against Kent police officials, declaring that they have carried on a campaign of "persecution" against him "or some time past. He also told deputy sheriff that he recognized one of his abductors unmistakably by his voice.

DAYTON YOUTH WEDS DAUGHTER OF COHAN

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Broadway's topic of conversation today was the surprise elopement of Mary Cohan 18-year-old daughter of George M. Cohan, the actor. She and Neil Litt, of Dayton, Ohio, an orchestra leader, slipped away to Elkton, Md., and were married by a retired Baptist minister.

CAPE GRIS NEZ, France, Sept. 1.—Mrs. Jack Weldon, of Dover, Eng., started to swim the English Channel at 11 a. m. today.

With the exception of a slight fog swimming conditions were excellent. Jane Darwin of Barnstable, Eng., another channel aspirant has arrived from Dover to begin training.

FIREMAN MURDERED ON TRAIN TRANSPORTING NON-UNION COAL

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Sept. 1.—Deputy sheriffs and railroad detectives today are scouring Belmont County for the murderers of A. J. McTea, 40, Wheeling, W. Va., fireman of a Baltimore and Ohio coal train who was shot while on duty aboard a train running between Flushing and Lafayette about three o'clock this morning.

Four hours after McTea was killed railroad detectives shot

Mike Courtney, 22, Powhattan, in the leg when he attempted to flee from them. It was reported here that 200 members of the railroad union had vowed to join the connection with McTea's killing.

The train on which McTea was firing, it is said, was carrying non-union West Virginia mined coal from Wheeling to the Great Lakes. Investigators reported that the shot that penetrated McTea's heart was fired from a 30-30 army rifle.

CHICAGO THEATER TIE-UP MAY BE CONTINUED INDEFINITELY

Movie Theaters Remain Closed While Other Branches Of Stage Workers May Be Drawn Into Strike, Is Report Now

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—First indication that the labor dispute between picture houses and motion picture machine operators would spread to include other organized branches of theater workers was seen today in the announcement that 200 members of the stage hands' union had vowed to join the locked-out film men.

This was followed by the announcement of Louis Alterie, president of the theatrical jockeys' union, that his organization would support both the operators and the striking stage hands "100 per cent."

Meanwhile Chicago's 350 motion picture houses remained closed, with little prospect of an early settlement of the involved labor dispute. Both sides settled back for the night.

The exhibitors' association, representing theater owners, held a long meeting last night, at the conclusion of which they issued the following statement:

"We have enough money and resources in our treasury to carry on the fight indefinitely, until such time as the unions are ready to deal with the exhibitors in a businesslike manner."

"We will not permit any unscrupulous labor leaders to tell us how to serve the Chicago public or how to deal with our own tremendous investments in Chicago."

The present controversy that is depriving thousands of Chicagoans of their favorite form of entertainment, is a combination strike and lockout.

Trouble between theater owners and union employees has been brewing for ten years, according to Jack Miller, business manager of the exhibitors' association. When officials of the motion picture operators union called a strike on the Orpheum circuit following a disagreement with the management of one theater, the exhibitors' association promptly closed all member theaters, compelling 90 per cent of the movie houses in Chicago.

The lockout threw more than 25,000 employees out of a job.

BELFAST, Sept. 1.—The United States shipping board steamer Anacortes, of Tacoma, Wash., went ashore today on Ballyquint Point in a fog while enroute from Cardiff to Glasgow. The crew was landed safely. Efforts to refloat the Anacortes are under way. The vessel sailed from Boston on August 12.

SURVEY WILL SHOW EFFECT OF BORER DRIVE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Whether the corn borer has been conquered in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, New York and Pennsylvania, under the stimulus of a $10,000,000 appropriation by congress, will not be definitely known until the department of agriculture has completed a survey of the infested area about Sept. 30, it was announced today.

Approximately 850 townships are being surveyed, involving five cornfields per township. Within each field a census is taken by experts experienced in locating the destructive borer.

When the campaign was authorized by congress the department considered eradication of the corn borer impossible. The spring cleanup campaign conducted in co-operation with state officials in the in-

PLANES LEAVE CANADA WITH ENGLAND GOAL

Royal Windsor And Sir John Carling Both Take Off

With the monoplane Sir John Carling in the air for its London, Ont., to London, Eng., flight and the Royal Windsor leaving Windsor, Ont., for Windsor, Eng., this morning, a race across the Atlantic is predicted.

The Sir John Carling started two hours before the Royal Windsor but is scheduled to stop at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, for refueling. This should make the start of the planes about even.

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 1.—The "Royal Windsor," carrying aviators Philip S. Wood and C. A. Schiller, hopped off from Walkerville Field at 9:17 this morning for a flight from this city to Windsor, Eng.

While the start was made several hours after the "Sir John Carling" hopped off at London, Ont., a trans-Atlantic race for the honor of being the first to span the Atlantic in the name of Canada seemed likely. Wood and Schiller were determined to make a non-stop flight while the "Sir John Carling" was to halt at Harbor Grace.

The "Royal Windsor's" destination is Windsor, Eng., but it will not land there. The aviators plan to drop greetings from the mayor of Windsor, Ont., and then continue the flight to Croydon.

Wood, a native of Duluth, Minn., served two years in France with the American Aviation Corps during the world war, and Schiller, who was born in Iowa, enlisted in the Royal Air force when he was 18 years old and served throughout the world conflict. For the past three years he has been in the Aerial Forest Patrol.

LONDON, ONT., Sept. 1.—Capt. Terry Tully and Lieut. James Metcalf hopped off for the second time from London, Ont., at 5:35 a. m. planning to land at Harbor Grace for refueling before attempting the ocean hop to the capital of the British Empire.

Captain Tully and Lieutenant Metcalf, planned to reach the Newfoundland coast before dark to night and wait until morning to resume their flight.

The second attempt of the London plane was witnessed by a vast crowd, despite the early hour. It was larger even than that on Monday, when the "Sir John Carling" was forced back after five hours by bad weather over Lake Ontario.

Tragedy was narrowly averted this morning, when a plane carrying a newsreel cameraman swooped down on the Crumlin Field at the very moment the "Sir John Carling" started down the runway. Neither pilot saw the other plane and a crash seemed imminent.

A mad dash in an automobile across the field succeeded in stopping the London plane until the intruder was out of the danger zone.

POLICEMAN SHOT IN HEAD BY PRISONER; PRISONER WOUNDED

Patrolman Subdues Captive After He Is Wounded

FREMONT, O., Sept. 1.—One man is believed dying, and a policeman is in a serious condition as the result of a spectacular gun battle on the street here early today, when a prisoner, arrested by the officer, suddenly whipped out a gun and began firing at his captor.

Fred Strahl, a Fremont patrolman, suffered a bullet wound through the head, and the prisoner, S. P. Nathies, 38, of Fremont, is in Memorial Hospital with three bullets from the officer's gun through his abdomen.

Strahl had gone to the home of Nathies, arrested him on a charge of possessing liquor, and had started to police headquarters in an automobile with his prisoner. Enroute, Nathies pulled a pistol and shot the officer through the head as they sat on the front seat of the car. The bullet penetrated the policeman's skull, ranging downward and lodging in his jawbone.

Strahl pulled his own gun, despite his wound, shot Nathies three times, and disarmed him. The sat on the running-board of the car and guarded the prisoner until other officers arrived and took charge.

FLYER STARTS ON SOLO AFRICA TRIP

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Lieut. R. R. Bentley hopped off from the Hendon airfield at 10:25 o'clock this morning on a solo flight to Cape Town.

Lieut. Bentley plans to follow the trail blazed by Sir Alan Cobham, and hoped to make the flight in fourteen days. The venture is the first solo flight ever attempted from England to South Africa.

AD WOLGAST FACES HEARING ON LUNACY

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 1.—Ad Wolgast, former lightweight champion of the world, will emerge from obscurity to face a strange audience here next Tuesday. On that date he will appear before the county lunacy commission.

Friends of Wolgast say he is "punchy goofy," as a result of the terrific beatings he took in the days of his prime. Of late, it is said, Wolgast has been living in the shadows of his old glory. He had been training vigorously under the delusion he was slated for a return match with Joe Rivers.

It was in 1912 that Wolgast fought his famous fight with the Mexican lightweight. Both fighters were knocked out, the decision going to Wolgast. This and other fights, notably his 42-round affair with Battling Nelson, is believed to have affected his mind.

Wolgast is only thirty-nine years old. Since 1922 he has been the ward of Jack Doyle, boxing promoter. The sporting fraternity of Los Angeles is heart sick over the veteran fighter's condition.

Nothing Heard From Princess And Her Pilots Since They Passed Ireland—Fog Off Newfoundland Offers Obstacle.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Sept. 1.—A thick fog prevailed over the Atlantic off the Newfoundland coast today, placing a dangerous obstacle in the way of the British plane, St. Raphael, which is enroute for Canada from England, with pilots Capt. Leslie Hamilton and Lieut. Col. Frederick F. Minchin and the Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim aboard.

At 11:30 a. m., local time, the visibility was very poor and a cold northeast wind had been blowing since dawn. This wind however, was favorable for the flyers.

The steamship Silvia which arrived at mid-morning, reported no trace of the plane.

Signal fires were kept burning all night at the Harbor Grace air-drome.

OTTAWA, Can., Sept. 1.—All preparations have been made to receive Captain Hamilton, Lieut. Col. Minchin and the Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim when they arrive here this afternoon from England.

The royal Canadian mounted police has been assigned to Lindbergh Field, where the flyers are scheduled to land, to handle the large crowd which is expected to be on hand.

Canadian air experts believe the plane will arrive between 2 and 4 o'clock this afternoon. The city is at a high pitch of excitement in anticipation of the arrival.

Mrs. Leslie Hamilton, wife of the pilot of the trans-Atlantic plane, was reported to be in seclusion under an assumed name at a local hotel, according to reports, Mrs. Hamilton, in order to avoid publicity, arrived in this city posing as the maid of a friend who traveled with her from New York.

By International News Service. Unless some mishap has occurred, three intrepid flyers, two men and a woman, today were winging their way across the Atlantic ocean in the Fokker monoplane St. Raphael, in a new attempt to bridge Europe and America by air.

The flyers are Captain Leslie Hamilton and Lieut. Col. F. F. Minchin of the British Royal Air Force, and the Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim, 62-year-old noblewoman and enthusiastic aviatrix.

Up until five o'clock this morning no word had been heard, either in Europe or America, of the plane since it passed over Ireland, on the western coast of Ireland at noon yesterday.

Assuming that good fortune is with the flyers, they should now have bridged three-quarters of the distance between Upavon, Wiltshire, England, which they left early yesterday morning on one of the strangest aerial adventures ever attempted, and Ottawa, Can., the goal of their trans-Atlantic hopes.

If the St. Raphael maintains the speed of eighty miles an hour it made while its course was still traceable over England and Ireland, the flyers should reach Newfoundland after twenty-nine hours in the air. As the plane carried enough gasoline for forty hours of flying, this would leave nine hours of flying more than sufficient to carry them the remaining 650 miles to Ottawa.

According to the latest reports available, the weather over the 1,900 miles of sea the flyers had to traverse has been generally favorable. No severe storms have been reported, but it is believed that head winds prevail over the latter portion of the route. Over Newfoundland and Labrador, unsettled weather conditions are forecast, with northern and westerly winds and a dense fog.

It is not believed, however, that the fog curtain will offer any serious impediment to the flyers, for unless the temperature dropped so low that the danger of ice forming on the wings of the plane arose, Hamilton and Minchin could fly above the fog banks.

Equipped with 800 gallons of gasoline when it took off from the Upavon airfield, the St. Raphael has a cruising time of almost forty hours. Provided the flyers have adhered to the great circle course they mapped out for themselves, and no unforeseen accident occurs, the flyers should find themselves over land soon after the sun rises this morning.

The total distance from Upavon to Ottawa is 2,920 miles.

The flyers, who surprised the world by their sudden take-off and the dramatic inclusion of the Princess as the first woman passenger ever to attempt a flight over the Atlantic ocean, are reported to have another startling adventure in store. It all goes well, and the St. Raphael glides down on Lindbergh field in Ottawa according to schedule, Minchin and Hamilton are understood to be planning a return flight to England after a rest of eight hours in the Canadian city.

If good fortune permits a successful completion of their hazardous adventure, Hamilton, Minchin and the princess will have scored the achievement of being the first ever to fly from Europe to America. The only two other attempts to cross the Atlantic from east to west met with failure. That of Captains Nungesser and Gypsy, the French war aces, met with disaster, for the flyers apparently dropped into the sea somewhere between Ireland and America. The other attempt, a double flight by the German Junkers planes Europa and Bremen, ended a few hours after the start when the planes were forced to turn back because of adverse weather conditions.

BOMB EXPLODES AT CHICAGO DOG RACES

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Several hundred persons watching the final dog race at Laramie Kennel Club in Cicero early today were thrown into a panic when a bomb exploded in a vacant lot 200 feet from the grandstand. No one was hurt and no damage was done. The Kennel Club is said to be operated by "Scarface Al" Capone. It is believed the bomb was set off to scare patrons away from the races.

CONGRESSMAN BEGG BOOSTS LONGWORTH AS POLITICAL BOSS

Exclusive Central Dispatch to The Evening Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—If Nicholas Longworth happens to be the Republican presidential nominee next year, and more particularly if he happens to be elected, watch Congressman James T. Beggs of Ohio.

Beggs invented Longworth, as a speaker of the house of representatives. Longworth wouldn't be a presidential possibility but for his speakership in case he ever sits in the White House he'll owe it largely to Beggs.

Longworth's an appreciative chap. He isn't one of these ungrateful politicians. Beggs's closer to him than any other man in congress, as everybody recognizes. Anything he wants that the speaker can give him he gets. With Longworth as president, he'd be a mighty power in the land.

For that matter, he's a power now. He isn't mind, a congressman of such long standing, in point of service. He didn't rise to his position of near-omnipotence in the house of representatives by the slow process of gradual advancement, as most of 'em do.

He's comparatively a young man—only barely fifty—and will only start with the coming session, on his fifth term.

That isn't much, compared with lawmakers like Representatives Garner, Poy, Haugen, Butler and Cooper, who already have served, respectively, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen and sixteen terms. It isn't even much compared with Longworth, who'll start on his doventh term next December.

A congressman with only four or five terms behind him ordinarily counts only as a youngster, whom it behooves to keep quiet and do as he's told.

Beggs knew this as well as anybody, but he didn't like the idea of waiting until he was gray before becoming a boss.

So what should occur to him but the speakership?—which fell vacant two years ago, when the Hon. Frederick A. Gillett was moved up to the senate from the chair of the upper house—and he said himself he was very doubtful if it was in the nature of a promotion or not.

Beggs, remember, was only finishing his third term—a mere congressional child—as Gillett laid down the gavel.

He couldn't grab the job for his very own. Not that he had any doubts about his ability to make good, but it was a cinch he couldn't get the votes, the time not having yet arrived when he could secure what he wanted by main strength, as he does now.

But he calculated, maybe, he could put the thing across for Longworth, who was eligible, popular and easy going—just the kind of speaker Beggs believed would suit his purposes, if he could manage to create one.

Well, Beggs's a good manager for fair, and he did it. Everybody gives him credit for it. Nick's a dandy man for the place, at that, and all he needed was somebody to furnish the ginger for his campaign. That's what Beggs had nothing else but.

Result—Beggs's assistant Republican house manager now, and gives orders to congressmen who've served twice and three times as long as he has.

He undoubtedly could have been in the senate next time, if he'd liked, but he has more fun where he is. He's flirting somewhat at the present with the Ohio Republican 1928 governorship nomination, but if Longworth looks like a good presidential bet, I imagine he won't feel like tying himself down to any single state.

Mighty few men come to Washington who give the impression of knowing so exactly what they're after, and so well how to annex it as Congressman Jim Beggs, of Sandusky.

What is a Diuretic?

One Can't Feel Well When Kidneys Act Sluggishly.

THE part played by the kidneys and their importance to bodily health should be clearly understood. Sluggish kidneys do not thoroughly cleanse the blood of poisonous wastes. Such impurities are apt to make one dull, tired and aching with often a nagging backache, drowsy headaches and dizziness. A common warning of imperfect kidney action is scanty or burning excretions. DRIVER INJURED AS AUTO HITS BRIDGE

Unfamiliar with the pike and failing to notice a sharp curve, Bart Riley, Wilmington, was seriously injured when he drove a new Essex sedan into the abutment of the Pennsylvania Railroad overhead bridge on the Springfield and Xenia pike, two miles north of Xenia near Old Town, at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday night.

Riley sustained several broken ribs and was painfully bruised about the body. His machine overturned and was wrecked.

Riley and Harry Carey, also of Wilmington, were driving two new Essex cars through to that city.

Riley was in the lead and was thought by his companion to have been so overcome by sleepiness that he probably failed to see either the bridge or the abrupt curve beneath it.

He was brought to Xenia by Carey and given medical attention by Dr. George Davis, after which he was able to return home.

PLEADS GUILTY

Ralph Davis, New Burlington, pleaded guilty to a charge of non-support before Probate Judge S. C. Wright Wednesday. Sentence was deferred by the court until Thursday afternoon.

Davis has a wife and seven-year-old girl. He was arrested Wednesday by Kenneth C. Barr county road patrolman, on a warrant sworn out by Davis' wife.

Farm Notes

COWS EARN KEEP
More than 1100 cows in Ohio can now consider themselves cows in good standing. During July the milk they produced tested forty pounds of butterfat or better, more than double the monthly record of the average Ohio cow.

These 1168 cows, to be exact, are the honor cows among 7162 cows whose milk and butterfat records are kept by members of twenty-six Ohio cow testing associations in co-operation with county agricultural agents and the agricultural college extension service at the Ohio State University. Cow testing associations aim to help their members cut milk production costs by discovering, through exact records, which cows are good producers and which ones should be culled.

A registered Jersey owned by Marshall and Whittington of Ashland County led the list in July in butterfat production. Her record was $9.1 pounds, equivalent to 107 pounds of butter.

In milk production, however, a registered Holstein owned by Firestone Farm of Columbiana County led all others. Her milk production was 2399 pounds, or nearly 1,200 quarts.

The Medina County cow testing association in July had the largest number of cows producing forty pounds or more of butterfat, sixty-eight achieving that record. The Ashland County Association was a close second with sixty-seven.

An association that has members in Geauga, Lake and Portage Counties reported fifty-five cows producing 1200 pounds or more of milk in July. The Ashland County group was second with forty-eight.

Pretty Wedding Unites Couple At Cedarville

An attractive late summer wedding was that in which Miss Lucille Dell Ritenour, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Ritenour of Cedarville, became the bride of Mr. James Dewey Miller, of R. R. 7, Xenia, at the home of her parents, at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

The Rev. S. M. Ingmire, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Cedarville, officiated at the double ring service in the presence of a company of twenty-five guests, most of them being relatives and close friends of the bridal pair.

Brilliantly hued garden flowers were used in profusion to decorate the rooms, gladioli and asters predominating. An altar of palms and ferns was arranged in the living room, and it was flanked by large urns filled with asters.

Lovely in her frock of white georgette over satin, the bride descended the stairway with the maid-of-honor, Miss Kathryn Hughes. Her frock was fashioned with bouffant skirt, with trimmings of narrow satin ribbon. She wore a head band of orange blossoms, and white satin slippers. Her bouquet was a shower of bride's roses.

Miss Hughes was in orchid crepe de chine, with black satin slippers and hose matching her frock, and she carried a bouquet of varied colored bloom.

The bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Paul Orr, of Fair Haven, O., and the officiating clergyman, descended the stairway following the bride and her maid.

Just before the ceremony, Miss Eleanor Johnson sang "At Dawning" accompanied on the piano by Miss Helen Iliff. Miss Iliff then sang "I Love You Truly" playing her own accompaniment, and took up the strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin." While the service was taking place she played McDowell's "To A Wild Rose."

A two course luncheon followed the ceremony. There were covers for the bridal party, Miss Johnson and Miss Iliff, at the bride's table, which was arranged with a centerpiece of pink roses, ferns being laid on the cloth to each cover, at which there was a pink rose.

After a two weeks' motoring trip through the east, Mr. and Mrs. Miller will be at home at 225 Union St., this city. Mr. Miller is associated with his father, Mr. C. O. Miller, in the grain business at Treble.

The romance which developed into the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Miller, began when both were students at Cedarville College. Their attendants, Miss Hughes and Mr. Orr, were their college chums at Cedarville.

PHYSICIANS APPROVE SCHOOL OPENING-APPOINT COMMITTEE

Representing the Greene County Medical Society, a committee of three physicians will confer with the Xenia City Board of Education Thursday night regarding the crisis which has been created by the epidemic of acute poliomyelitis or infantile paralysis, which is sweeping through Ohio.

Although Xenia and Greene County are free of the malady so far as is known, school authorities wish to co-operate with medical and health heads in the efforts to stamp out the epidemic, and for that reason, Superintendent Harper C. Pendry asked doctors holding their September meeting here Thursday for advice regarding the situation.

The medical society passed a resolution recommending the opening of schools as usual, but advising the appointment of a medical inspector, as a protection against an outbreak of epidemic disease, of any nature.

Dr. R. R. McClellan, Dr. R. H. Grube and Dr. T. F. Myler of the O. S. and S. O. Home, were appointed by the medical society as a committee to meet the education board at its regular meeting Thursday night.

Both Dr. McClellan and Superintendent Pendry said that the physicians and school board will attempt to conceive some workable plan by which the schools may be opened on schedule time next week, and at the same time, any appearance of the malady in Xenia promptly detected and taken care of.

So far, Grandview Heights, Columbus suburb, is the only municipality that has decided to postpone the opening of schools because of the epidemic. Schools in that village will not be opened until a week from the regular date.

Superintendent Pendry said that he personally believes that the disease can be controlled more readily if the children are in school, than if they are allowed to run at large.

A paper by Dr. R. H. Grube, Greene County health commissioner, and a general discussion of infantile paralysis featured the Thursday morning meeting of the medical society. Dr. Grube's paper was entitled: "Acute Epidemic Anterior Poliomyelitis."

Dr. R. R. McClellan led the discussion, and most of the physicians took part generally in the discussion which followed. Symptomatology, management and treatment of the malady were discussed.

A number of visiting doctors attended the meeting, including: Dr. Booker, Bayer, Woodburn, Ludlow, Wolf, Hauser of Urbana, and J. H. Harris of Clifton.

COMPANY FORMED TO MAKE HOG FEEDER; HAS XENIA CAPITAL

Attorney F. W. Dunkle, William Russell Steel, and D. H. James of this city, are incorporators of the Xenia Hog Feeder Company which was granted a charter in Columbus Thursday.

The company has secured from the patentee, Charles Burnett, of Washington, C. H., exclusive rights to manufacture his patent hog feeding device, which has been on the market for the last three years. It is now being manufactured by Jesse Thompson of Washington, C. H., and will continue to be made in the same plant under the new ownership.

Mr. James said Thursday that he was unable to say whether or not the factory would be moved to Xenia.

The business was incorporated for 250 shares non par stock. Mr. Steel is head of the Xenia Hatcheries on Washington St., and Mr. James is sales manager for the Xenia Fertilizer Company.

Both are experienced men. Mr. Steel was formerly engaged extensively as a hog raiser in Chillicothe. Mr. James was formerly a salesman for mineral hog feeding products.

The hog feeding device which they are putting out, is said to have nothing its equal on the market, and the local men are enthusiastic over the prospects for the future of the company. A date for an organization meeting has not yet been set.

ROUTE MOTORISTS THROUGH THIS CITY

Dayton motorists are being advised by the Dayton Auto Club to drive through Xenia in preference to other routes on their way to attend the Ohio State Fair at Columbus this week.

Motorcycle Policeman Peter Shagin is joining with the Dayton auto club in the warning to motorists to drive carefully if the trip is made through the towns of South Vienna and West Jefferson, as drivers are being arrested at both places for speeding.

Their speed limit is fifteen miles an hour in the business section and twenty-five miles an hour in the residential districts.

Paul E. Ackerman, secretary of the Dayton club, suggests that the route through Xenia, South Charleston and London is a good one and drivers will find less restrictions.

MAY MEAN GREAT NAVY

The failure of the recent Geneva conference to bring about a further limitation of naval armament by Great Britain, the United States and Japan will bring the issue of America's future cruiser strength squarely before the next Congress and likely will result in a definite program of naval expansion, in the opinion of Frank H. Simonds, noted international political observer.

"Nothing is more uncertain now than that Congress and not the White House will take over the naval debate," declares Mr. Simonds, surveying the post-conference situation in the Review of Reviews.

"Congress was with difficulty restrained from a naval program during the past two years by the insistence that first the Disarmament Conference of the League of Nations, and later the Anglo-American-Japanese meeting, would insure an arrangement by which the United States would obtain quality with economy," he points out.

"That argument is exploded now. Congress is seized with the fact that he have not achieved equality and cannot get it unless we are prepared to build."

"The American people are also informed. Conceivably they may not care to embark upon a great naval expense, but they are hardly likely to agree to any convention which under the color of nominal equality imposes enduring inferiority."

"From the Congressional point of view, Ambassador Gibson did not fail at Geneva. On the contrary, he successfully maintained the only American thesis which Congress or the country will accept, namely equality, as both see it. We emerged from an international conference for the first time having lost nothing, having given away nothing."

PRESENTING CRIME

Europe deals with crime through prevention rather than punishment. This is the word of Dr. Louis Robinson, of the National Crime Commission. Here we punish harder, but overthere they punish a greater number. Over there they rely on the police more than on the jails. Their effort is to keep crime down by watchfulness rather than to depend so much on punishment.

The world of tomorrow will see little improvement in ways of punishing. It is to be hoped it will see much improvement in prevention and cure.

LET THE BOY TALK

When William Pitt, the younger, astonished his hearers in parliament by his skill in debate, an old man said:

"How on earth did he gain such power?"

The answer was: "Because his father, the great Chatham, always permitted young William Pitt to be himself."

Fathers will do well to note these lines. Let your boy talk. Encourage him to express his opinion. Take him seriously. He will gain strength under that treatment.

SURELY A PURPOSE

Not long ago a man with a reputation as a scientist said: "Presently this world will perish, and all upon it will be as though it had never been; the planet itself a dead cinder drifting through space, with memories of Washington, and even of the apostles, the prophets, the martyrs, and Christ, the great leaders of the past no more than dust in the stellar spaces of a careless universe."

That is not a long view. It is a short view. A purposeless universe and a purposeless life are unthinkable.

THE DOG QUESTION.

Editor, Gazette:

Can you please find out and publish in the columns of your paper about this dog "bill of sale" question? As it is at the present, the bill of sale must be signed by the county auditor's office and may I sell and breed, and must be signed by the dog, please give me some blanks.

There are no questions asked, and $25 is imposed for violation of the provisions, County Auditor R. O. Ward declares that blank bills of sale may be obtained at the office of the county auditor and when filled out must be filed in the auditor's office. "The bill of sale" question? As it is at the present, the bill of sale must be signed by the county auditor's office and may I sell and breed, and must be signed by the dog, please give me some blanks.

If you are a licensed dealer and regardless of whether you have bought a license, there is no protection to the persons who pay, as any person can fill out the blanks very easily, since there is no record of the number of the owner's license nor of the number of blanks handed out to persons asking for them.

Please send some one to the county auditor's office and ask for one of these blanks and see for yourself, and please publish your views on same. I had a dog taken from my premises during my absence and the person taking it remarked that he could fix up the bill of sale all right, so I therefore feel a little raw about this matter.

THE NEW "GAS HAWK"

Household Hints

By Mrs. Mary Morton

MENU HINT
Here's a vegetarian meal using cheese with cabbage as the basic dish. The potatoes are baked in the oven and the cabbage popped in to brown.

Baked Potatoes Scalloped Cabbage
Best and Onion Salad
Chocolate Layer Cake
Tea—Hot or Cold

TODAY'S RECIPES

One small cabbage, paprika, salt, pepper and bread crumbs, one tablespoon each of butter and flour, one cup of milk and a snappy cheese. Remove outer leaves from cabbage and boil in boiling salted water for fifteen minutes. Drain, add more water and continue boiling until tender.

Meanwhile, blend the flour and butter, add the milk slowly, and cool until it is thick. Then add the cheese, broken in pieces. Keep hot until the cheese has melted, but boil again. A double boiler is the best way to make this. There should be a cup and a half of sauce when it is finished.

Drain the cabbage, cut fine, season and put in baking dish. Pour on the cheese sauce, sprinkle with bread crumbs, dot with bits of butter and paprika, and bake until brown in a quick oven.

Casserole—A dish with a cover in which food is cooked slowly in the oven. The food is always served at table from the casserole.

SUGGESTIONS

Paint Spots
Obstinate paint spots on windows may be removed by scraping with an old razor blade and then washing with water in which there is a little ammonia. The most stubborn paint spots on clothing or other fabric will yield to turpentine mixed with ammonia and rubbed into the area to be cleaned.

Water Stains on Mahogany
Water stains on mahogany may be cleaned if done at once. If it has been on long enough to cause a white spot it can be removed if rubbed with a soft cloth and a little polish. The spot will eat into the finish if allowed to remain, and the table top will need refinishing. Avoidance of unnecessary spotting by asbestos mats under vases of flowers is the best prevention.

CHICKEN A LA KING
(Mrs. Mary Morton's Daily Tested Recipe.)

Disjoint a chicken and cook slowly in small amount of water until tender. Season. Remove the meat from the bones and cut into thick pieces, about two inches long. Have on hand one green pepper, one pimiento, two cups chicken broth, two or three tablespoons flour, one-half pound mushrooms, two eggs, one-half cup butter, one cup milk, salt, pepper and paprika. Sauté (brown in fat) the mushrooms and add them to the chicken. Blend the butter and flour and add chicken broth slowly, and the milk. When cooked thoroughly add the chicken and mushrooms. Chop the green pepper and pimiento fine and add. Season to taste. Just before serving beat the eggs slightly, add a tablespoon of the other mixture to them and return all to the chicken. Don't put the mixture back on the fire after the eggs are added.

WIFE PRESERVERS
New, shiny cake tins will not rust if they are greased and heated immediately upon purchase.

COMMENT.

Letters printed in this column often are read by those who have a similar problem. These latter can sometimes give a word of warning or a helpful suggestion to my correspondents. The two letters following are in answer to some printed recently, and I hope the original writers will read them and take heart.

The first is answer to a girl who wrote that she was so consumed with jealousy that it was making both herself and her fiance miserable.

"Dear Virginia Lee: I just ran across your article on 'Love and Jealousy,' and it affected me very much, for I am married to the best man in the world, and he is simply wild about me and loves me entirely, but oh, God knows how very unhappy he is making me by the same sort of feelings that 'Jealousy' has. If she can kill those feelings she had better do so for he will at first feel sorry, then, after awhile, resentful, and in the end lose all regard for her. She should just make herself smile and joke when these feelings come over her if she does not want to have him finally see that such a love is very selfish and wicked. I surely know and hope she will try and that she will ask my husband has asked me to help him. Otherwise I would not be with him today.

ONE IN DEEP PERPLEXITY."

Just what I try to tell the girls, "PAL." Glad to have you speak up for the boys.

I have this man's name and address if any of my readers can do anything for him:

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I read your column daily and am wondering if any of your readers have work of any kind for a middle-aged man who is an all-around mechanic, but who is willing to do anything honest and honorable. I would consider anything either with or without a home, as I have no home and am rooming. I am looking ahead for the winter.

ALEC."

How to Achieve Beauty

BEAUTY PROBLEMS OF THE ADOLESCENT.

Adolescence is the beauty age when the problems are most apparent. The internal changes going on inside the body and girl are almost invariably accompanied by eruptions on the skin, even to those blessed with the loveliest complexion.

It is the time when every skin is on trial and when a naturally fine complexion can, if not properly cared for, be ruined for a number of years to come.

Blackheads, so prevalent at this stage, open the door to acne. Every skin should be meticulously cared for at this age, and whenever acne does arise, a scientific regime to get rid of it should be started at the very outset.

During the rapid growth and development at adolescence, posture is usually apt to take undesirable trends. Young boys and girls should be constantly reminded to hold their bodies erect, standing as tall as they can. Girls, especially, are likely to slump in early adolescence because they are conscious of their new height and sometimes wish to appear shorter than they are. Girls should be prevented from wearing tight, binding brassieres that tear down the tender tissues of the breast and cause them to become drooping and ugly. If left to themselves, girls are very likely to bind their breasts too tightly because they are so conscious of the new fullness.

But to get back to the skin of the adolescent and acne, in which I am particularly interested, because a great deal of my work and research has been devoted to its treatment, I want to make some practical suggestions.

First of all, keep the pores thoroughly cleansed. If there are any blackheads, wash with a penetrating and medicated blackhead open-pore paste. This is a precaution every young person should take, because acne invariably starts in pores which have become enlarged by blackheads.

If there is an acne condition, which simply means pimples that persist in breaking out in the same neighborhood spots or remaining as hard, purplish bumps, follow the washing with an acne cream to be used at night. Do not massage the skin, as this spreads the acne in nine cases out of ten. Be particularly careful about your choice of a cleansing cream. The best one I know for this purpose is a cream which has been made by a pasteurized process and is sufficiently medicated to soothe rather than aggravate a pimply surface.

Diet is extremely important in overcoming acne. Refrain from rich foods, heavy meats, smoked fish, and an excess of sweets. Drink lots of water. If it agrees with you, eat yeast. For some people, yeast is not good, as it causes internal disturbances, but if it does agree with you, it is definitely beneficial where an acne condition exists.

I Have Said in My Heart

By IDAH MCGLOTH GIBSON

STOP

Why is it there are so many divorces among moving picture actors?"

The question was put to me in a tone of voice that told me the man who asked it was thoroughly disgusted with the laxness of Hollywood on the marriage question.

Very calmly I answered, "There is only about as large a percentage of divorces among picture people as there is between other very wealthy people. The proportion is about the same in each case."

There are many reasons why the moving picture people, who get large salaries, are apt to divorce each other. First, they are the most temperamental people on earth. If they were not, they could not work so stupendously and play so enthusiastically.

Second, very few of them have the background that makes for moderation. The average actor for the screen has begun his profession in grueling poverty and when his salary begins to soar, he soon comes to the conclusion that he can buy anything, even a Paris or Reno divorce.

Third, the moving picture actress usually earns more money than her husband, consequently, the usual fear of not being able to earn the luxuries to which she is accustomed, is not hers if she thinks of a divorce.

Fourth, there is more or less jealousy, for added to the ordinary jealousy of "the other" which will creep into some wedded lives, there is the jealousy of each other's profession in which there is even more rancor.

And last but not least, there is the gossip of the neighbors.

We are all neighbors to the people we see on the screen.

Hollywood boulevard goes into every city and hamlet, and every body is interested in those that they see every day, even if they never speak to them.

When John and Julia are divorced, no one takes any notice of it, but when Milton Sills separates from his wife and marries someone else, all the neighbors all over the world talk about it.

Gloria Swanson, when she married the Marquis de la Palaise, said to me, "Henri and I will be very happy if the people who think they know us will just let us alone—but I don't suppose they will."

Billie Burke said nearly the same thing to me years ago, when she married Florenz Ziegfeld. Billie and Florenz weathered the storms of married life, and Gloria is trying hard to do so; but every time that Henri is to go back to France in order to keep his citizenship in his native land, "the neighbors" gossip until Gloria nearly goes wild.

Snoberiness Always Reveals Itself.

When a man writes a letter or a book, he usually tells more about himself than he suspects.

Last night I chanced to pick up a war book, written by a famous American, and learned to my surprise that the author is a snob.

On the slightest provocation, he uses French phrases when English would have been not only more in line, but more natural.

His book was intended for English-speaking peoples. The only excuse for using a French phrase would be that there is no English equivalent. But this writer wished to show that he spoke French.

When telling that a French general had asked him for a match, or remarked that it looked like rain, the author could not always resist the temptation to print the remark into the book in idiomatic French. Sometimes, however, he gave, also, the English translation, as much as to say: "You yokels who read this, not being as smart as I am, probably do not know what I'm talking about here, so I'll give it also in English!"

It never occurred to him that he was piling evidence against himself as an intellectual smart aleck. A really great writer is always able to express himself in his own native tongue. Just as a great lawyer can make his thoughts clear without the use of Latin phrases, and a keen-minded doctor can get along without too technical language in describing a symptom.

About the worst puissance in a community is the man who happens to have an assured income, without toil, of $2500 a year. With less income he might be obliged to work; with more he may feel a greater self-importance and try to do something to excuse himself for having so much money. But the $2500-a-year-income man seems to fall into a $2500 frame of mind and lets it go at that. People who do not work but start foolish "movements" and get in other people's way are often those having annual dividends of approximately $2500.

An old man in my native town once confided to me that it had been his lifelong ambition to go as delegate, with all expenses paid, to a grand lodge meeting in Denver. I imagine that if the truth were told nearly every lodge member had secret hopes of becoming an officer—so that fellow members will salute him—or of being sent to Denver.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—At least half of the complimentary portion of the audience at the opening of the Ziegfeld Follies, the other night basked smugly in the fatuous belief that they had been singled out for special honor by Mr. Ziegfeld.

Various braces of tickets had been sent out, each with a note saying that the enclosed tickets had originally been reserved for Mayor Walker and Mrs. Walker, who have gone abroad. Since the Mayor always occupies one of the seats of honor at the Follies opening, it would have been a feather in almost any one's cap to have got the Mayor's seats.

As a matter of fact what was done was that the seats ordinarily given to one dramatic critic were switched with those ordinarily given to another dramatic critic. Thus Percy Hammond, dramatic critic of the Herald Tribune, occupied the seat usually reserved for Kelsey Allen, dramatic critic for Women's Wear; and an anonymous critic from Ziegfeld's weekly occupied Hammond's seat; George Jean Nathan was given the seat usually occupied by Walter Winchell of the Evening Graphic; Winchell had the seat that Kelsey Allen usually occupies; and so it went.

The joke was carried even further. There are a great many first-nighters who are cash customers. They have standing orders at all theaters for good seats at all openings. The "Follies" opening is the most important premiere of any season; so the habitual first-nighters season after season have the same seats reserved for them. They also received other seats not their customary locations, with notes saying that as a special favor Mr. Ziegfeld was sending tickets for the seats ordinarily occupied by the Chief Magistrate and his lady.

The joke was not discovered until too many began to boast between acts of having Mayor Walker's seats.

The Mayor's brace of seats were actually occupied by a cloak and hat man who paid a whopping price for them to a scalper and never knew they were the Mayor's usual seats.

It was old home night at the "Follies" opening, with Ziegfeld himself in pearl gray business suit and the inevitable blue skirt, standing all evening long against a corner in the inner lobby, and coming out on the stage at the close of the show to make a drooping violet bow and being introduced by the volatile Eddie Cantor. Cantor's family sat in a box and when the spot was turned on them it was apparent that Cantor fed them well, for the youngest daughter is twice her father's size. Between acts members of the audience mobbed Billie Burke, getting her to autograph their programs. She was in a flame colored wrap. Raymond Hitchcock sported a monocle which he could not keep in his eye, but which fortunately anchored to a black string. . . . Carl Van Vechten and Fania Marinoff sat in a box. . . . George Jean Nathan was with Frank Crowninshield, editor of Vanity Fair. . . . Harry Herschell, "Follies" the other night basked smugly in the fatuous belief that they had been singled out for special honor by Mr. Ziegfeld.

POLICE CHIEFS TO OPEN SERIES BETWEEN RESERVES AND COPS

Reserves and Dayton Police have arranged to play a series of three games, commencing Sunday afternoon at Washington Park, to definitely settle the question of superiority on the diamond this season.

XENIA GOLFERS WIN FROM WILMINGTON; IS THIRD VICTORY

The Xenia Country Club continued its unbroken string of victories in inter-city golf matches this season, by swamping golfers of the Snow Hill Country Club of Wilmington 43 to 11, Nassau count, in a match over the local course Wednesday afternoon.

The defeat was the second administered by Xenia to Wilmington this year.

John Lamb, Wilmington professional, in an exhibition match, shot the two rounds in seventy-eight.

Cravford, Xenia golfer, turned in a fine eighty-one for the eighteen holes, the lowest score of the match.

Perry, Wilmington player, shot an eighty-three to lead the visiting team, and received a prize for his feat, half a dozen golf balls.

Forty-four players participated in the match, twenty-two representing each club.

The weather was fine and sunny and the ideal conditions resulted in a number of good scores being recorded.

Golfers of both teams were served dinner at the club house following the match.

Xenia's next inter-city match is at Middletown next Wednesday afternoon. This will probably be the final one of the season. The local club has won three straight matches, including one victory over Middletown on the Xenia links.

JAMESTOWN WANTS TO PLAY BAYLIFFS THREE GAME SERIES

Jamestown's baseball team is issuing a challenge to the Bowersville Bayliffs for a three-game series.

The Jamestown management suggests that the winner take all of the gate receipts and that $50 be posted for each game.

Both Jamestown and Bowersville are members of the Triangle League, with the Bayliffs having a better place in the standing.

Jamestown is confident of its superiority over Bowersville.

Bowersville defeated Jamestown in a league game 3 to 2 last Sunday, but errors contributed to the defeat. With better fielding, Jamestown would have won 2 to 1.

Glass pitched a fine game for Jamestown and had nine strikeouts to his credit. Besides the Jamestown twirler also starred at bat, obtaining two hits, one a triple.

EXPENSIVE DUCKS LAND IN COURT

Fred Dale, of near Wilberforce, is determined to recover five ducks he alleges were stolen from him by James Nance, colored, Wilberforce.

Dale first started criminal proceedings against Nance in the court of R. O. Copey, justice of the peace, Wednesday, and Nance was apprehended by Constable Lewis Moss. On motion of the defendant, the case was dismissed by the court.

Dale immediately instituted a replevin suit against Nance for recovery of the ducks, and the hearing was set for Thursday. Dale claims Nance is holding the ducks unlawfully and identified the ducks when they were brought into court.

It is estimated the ducks will cost considerably more than their original value before they cease to be the subject of litigation.

JOE HAGLER TAKES STATE FAIR SPEED EVENT WITH TROTTER

Missing Wonder, by Missing Bell, carrying the colors of William Irwin, Lebanon, O., and piloted by Joe Hagler, Xenia trainer, repeated its straight heat victory, scored at the Greene County Fair races in August, by taking the 2:16 trot and $1,000 purse in decisive fashion at the Ohio State Fair Wednesday in the opening race, defeating a small field.

Hagler has enjoyed great success with the sterling trotter this season. Missing Wonder's latest triumph was also in straight heats. The trotter's time in each heat was 2:11 1/2, 2:09 1/2 and 2:13 1/4.

Entered in the 2:18 trot at the Greene County Fair, the Irwin horse won easily in each of the three heats without being forced to faster time than 2:15 1/4.

Prize money, driven by Fogwell, Osborn, for Samuel Rogers, Springfield, O., finished second and third, respectively, in the two heats of the two-year-old trot for the Secretary of State $1,500 purse at the state fair Wednesday.

FILLING STATION SOLD TO CARROLL-BINDER COMPANY

Purchase of The Courtesy Drive-In gasoline filling station at Fairground Ave., and N. Detroit St., was announced Thursday by The Carroll-Binder Co., 108 E. Main St.

The purchase was made from the Sinclair Refining Co., Dayton, O. Jacob Colp, station manager, who was connected with the White Rock Oil Co., erected the station on its present site two and one-half years ago, but leased the property and equipment to the Dayton Refining company about two months ago.

The deal was closed Thursday morning, and the new owners expect to open for business immediately.

The purchase was considered necessary because of the necessity for expansion of the Carroll-Binder Co. to care for increased business, which could not be handled adequately at the E. Main St. station. The newly-acquired station will be known under the firm name and plans are progressing for a number of alterations and improvements that will make the branch modern in all departments, paying special attention to women drivers.

The station now has three pumps and it is planned to add two more to supply better service. The station will handle Caldwell-Taylor's Benzol, Indian gas and Refiner's Ethyl gas.

Extensive remodeling work will be done, a new front constructed, new equipment installed and the building converted into a more attractive station.

RHEUMATISM

May be relieved by rational treatment—it can not be rubbed away.

Are you one of those unfortunates who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, commonly called rheumatism, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep? You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 400 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried almost everything. Went to Hot Springs . . . then finally decided to try S.S.S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains en-

TRANS-OCEANIC FLIGHTS "SOLD" AVIATION

AT THE TOP IS THE LATEST AIR MAP OF THE UNITED STATES, SHOWING ROUTES ALREADY IN OPERATION, AND THOSE PLANNED. BELOW, ON THE LEFT, POSTMASTER GENERAL NEW INSPECTING THE LATEST MODEL MAIL PLANE, AND ON THE RIGHT, HAZELHURST AIRPORT, NEW YORK. INSET, AN AIR BEACON IN THE HEART OF THE ALLEGHENIES.

NOTE—This is the first of a series of three articles by Charles P. Stewart on the developments of aviation in the United States, following the Lindbergh, Chamberlin and other transoceanic flights. The second will deal with the army's relationship to aviation, and the third with aviation from the naval viewpoint.

Central Press, Washington Bureau
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The Evening Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Colonel Lindbergh's flight meant just this to American commercial aviation:

Aviation is "sold" now, to the country.

If the transaction needed clinching, Chamberlin, Byrd and Maitland clinched it.

This is how the situation is viewed by such captains of the industry to Colonel Paul Henderson, head of National Air Transport, Ltd.

Yes, industry. Colonel Henderson's interest in aviation's commercial, so, to him, it's an industry. The first of the year American commercial aviation was ahead of its times.

Its apostles conceived it as their mission—they were right about it then—to educate the public up to it. This looked like slow work. Aviation development promised to be correspondingly slow, due to lack of encouragement.

Lindbergh's super-salesmanship changed the outlook over night. Today the popular demand is perhaps greater than aviation can immediately prove itself equal to.

Accelerated Development

Henderson is glad of it. It spells the difference, he says, between retarded development and accelerated development. He wants popular expectation to set a pace which aviation will have to hustle to keep up with.

Lindbergh, Chamberlin and Byrd having made the sale, it remains for America's Colonel Henderson to fill the order.

The colonel is losing no time about it.

Lind's record wasn't many hours old before Henderson was in Washington. In conference with Postmaster General New relative to a further broadening, through private enterprise, of the air mail service.

It is, in part, through teamwork between the postoffice and private flying agencies that American aviation is to be stimulated. Hitherto the department has largely operated its own planes, thus cutting off private companies from considerable sources of business and revenue which they needed, to prosper. But, now, mail-carrying contracts are being let by the government to such concerns as National Air Transport, assuring them an important nucleus of traffic, as with stage lines in the old days and with railroads later.

The postoffice, by the way, is one American institution which hasn't lagged in the field of aviation. Colonel Henderson himself, as assistant postmaster general, before he retired to engage in the commercial flying industry, built it up to a point where it was able to challenge competition with any of the heavily-subsidized lines of the old world.

Against Subsidy
"Not," adds the colonel, "that we want a subsidy here, but it stands to reason that a European company, with approximately seventy per cent of its expenses paid by its government, can afford better transportation rates than are possible in America, where the industry must be self-sustaining."

"For the same reason passenger-carrying by air is more general abroad than in the United States—on a subsidized line comparatively low fares are possible."

"The backbone of our business necessarily is express traffic."

"Our fares are unavoidably too high for any volume of passenger travel. In the matter of correspondence we must compete with the telegraph and telephone. The plane naturally is not adapted to moving heavy non-perishable freight."

"But when it comes to handling

A dozen nurses from the Cincinnati hospital attended the services and the honorary pall bearers were Misses Rosemary Robinson, Dayton; Mary Beck, Covington, Ky.; Betty Ryan, Cincinnati; Clara Fisher, Celina; Virginia Feltrig, Milford and Marie Fagan, Springfield. AUTOS DAMAGED IN COLLISION TUESDAY

Passengers in both cars escaped injury when a coupe driven by William Mooney, Lebanon, O. and also occupied by his wife, was damaged after colliding with a car driven by John Ankeney, of Ankeney and Weaver battery station, this city, at Dayton Ave. and Orange Sts., Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

Police Chief M. E. Graham, who lived nearby, investigated the crash and declared Mooney told him he became lost while trying to reach the Cincinnati Pike. Mooney did not stop the car at the intersection and the machine was whirled around and a front wheel broken down. Ankeney was driving south down the hill. The coupe was taken to Gordon Brothers garage for repairs.

..... and Smooth Running

"The quietest balloon I ever used." So one car owner told us about the NEW Goodyear All-Weather Balloon. And this tire IS quiet—quiet and smooth running. It rides on its sturdy shoulder ribs with no objectionable rumble, vibration, or loss of power.

Eighty treads were actually made up and tested in road service before this tread was adopted because it was quiet, yet had traction, safety and long wear.

Whether you need tires now or not—see Goodyear's NEW balloon tire. Let us explain why it is the World's Greatest Tire.

The interior of the room is being re-decorated, painted and re-modeled and the shop is expected to open soon.

Isadore Hyman, the elder of the two brothers, while a student at Ohio State University, was the university representative for the "Dunlap Clothes Shop, Cincinnati, O."

PLEADS NOT GUILTY BEFORE JUDGE HERE

Brice Williams, colored, Springfield, pleaded not guilty to a charge of reckless driving proffered by Howard Sanford, colored, Clifton Pike, before Judge S. C. Wright Wednesday.

His hearing was set for Wednesday, September 7 at 1 o'clock. His bail was fixed at $100 and Williams was released. The bond was signed by Williams and his wife.

AROUND THE TOADSTOOL

The smooth, shiny thing might have been an umbrella, but it wasn't. Peter had gone but a few steps when he stopped to laugh at himself. "Oh, dear, I shall never get used to being little! Just because I am no taller than Tor-

tempered friend. He hurried to Tortoise's side.

"What are you?"—Peter began, and then had no need to ask what the Tortoise was doing. He saw, and the sight made his eyes pop out and for just a moment he gasped. But never for long did the Boy lose his voice, and now he cried:

"Why, you are chewing the Toadstool, Jack-in-the-Box—eating it all up. How funny you look pacing around the stem and nibbling from the top!"

"My Toadstool table," muttered Tortoise. "A table, sure enough!" cried Peter. "But you don't sit down to your meals, do you?"

"Tortoise shook his head. "No," muttered he, his mouth full, "I don't. I walk around slowly, of course, but still I keep on the move."

"And you not only eat from your table—you eat of it!" laughed the Boy.

Tortoise chuckled. "There will not be much table left when I am through. You see, I bite off a piece, chew it until I have gotten all the juice and then spit it out like this!"

Jack-in-the-Box dropped the chewed fiber upon the ground as he spoke.

"Then I take another bite, and another, and another, always from the outer rim and next to the piece I took last. The Toadstool table grows smaller and smaller until I have bitten it off to the very stem!"

Next—"Tortoise's Meat is a Two-Leg's Poison."

Sally's Shoulders

by BEATRICE BURTON, Author of "HER MAN" "HONEY LOU" "THE HOLLYWOOD GIRL" ETC.

"The men are all alike," she wailed.

READ THIS FIRST:

SALLY JEROME, pretty and clever, is the only girl in her family in the absence of her father, who does not live with her mother. MRS. JEROME enjoys poor health so Sally does the housework mornings and afternoons. BEAU and MILLIE, her brother and sister, give almost nothing toward the upkeep of the house. Occasionally Mr. Jerome sends some money. The real load falls upon Sally's shoulders. In the flat below the Jeromes lives TED KIDAN, who is in love with Sally. But the only man who interests her is JOHN NYE, whose office is across the hall from Mr. Peevey's office, where Sally works. Nye is infatuated with Millie, who is his secretary. Millie says that she likes him and his money, but she really prefers a bond salesman named DAVIDSON. Beau "borrows" some money from the bank where he works and Sally has to find the money to pay it back. Then Beau elopes with MABEL, WILLIAM and brings her home to live. Millie goes to the hospital for an operation and John Nye pays her expenses there. In the meantime Sally works for John Nye, and when Mr. Peevey retires from business Nye offers her a steady job. She refuses it, and goes into the outside inn business with her AUNT EMILY. JEROME. She is hurt because Millie has told her that John Nye laughed at some things she did for him. The inn does not prosper, and finally Aunt Em hires a jazz band and Sally and Ted put on an exhibition dance which drives the crowds. The whole family comes to live at the inn, too, to do their own housework without Sally. Then Mrs. Jerome goes out of town to her sick husband, and sends to Sally for whatever money she wants. Mabel's baby boy is born, and Beau starts raising a row with another woman. Mabel makes up her mind to go back to work until she has enough money to start housekeeping. While she is wondering where to look for a job Millie comes home with the news that she has quit her job, and adds that she'd like to "smack John Nye's face for him."

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER LII

SALLY saw that she was trembling with fury or some other powerful excitement. She was actually shaking all over as if she had a chill. But no fever could have painted her cheeks more solet or lit brighter flames in her eyes. "What on earth has happened?" Sally asked, wondering what John Nye could have done to make Millie look as she was looking now. Suddenly she burst into tears. "The men are all alike," she sobbed out, and then choked up for a moment.

Sally had heard her say exactly that thing, two or three times before, when she had quit her job and walked out of an office.

Always her story had been the same story—that some man or other had "got fresh" or "acted fresh" with her.

And now she was saying that all the men were alike. Did that mean that John Nye, too, had "got fresh" and "acted smart?" Sally wondered, and as she wondered, that dull ache in her heart seemed to become more painful than ever—like an old wound.

"John Nye's no better than anyone of the rest of them—Bursall or Judkins, or any of the rest," Millie finished on a long-drawn sobbing breath.

"Nice thing, isn't it?" asked Sally indignantly of Mabel, when the sound of Millie's door closing and the key turning in the lock came down to them through the quiet house.

"Yes, but is it true?" asked Mabel with a little smile that said whole volumes. "If Millie got peevish because John Nye made love to her the way Bursall at our office used to, it's the first time in her life she ever did get peevish about a man making love to her. . . . So just paste that in your hat!"

Sally eyed her thoughtfully. After all, Mabel knew Millie better than she herself knew her. She had worked with her day in and day out for a long time—and the pair of them had run around together for months, after office hours. "I tell you, Millie never walked out of Nye's office because he showed her that he was crazy about her," Mabel went on as she followed Sally back to her kitchen. "Take it from me, she walked out on him for some reason that she's not telling us, old kid! I'm going to find out about it, though. If it takes me a year!"

Early in the afternoon, while Millie was sleeping upstairs, she came down to the kitchen where Sally and Aunt Em were cutting up chickens and covering them with flour for

She was dressed for the street, and her hair was curled. Her face was rouged, and a strong smell of violet water came from her as she stood in the doorway. "Where are you going, instead of staying at home and looking after your baby?" Aunt Em snapped at her. Aunt Em had no earthly use for Mabel, and made no secret of the fact. "I'm going down town for a job," Mabel snapped back at her. Then she turned to Sally. "Darling, you'll look after my hat while I'm gone, won't you?" she asked. "You're a fool to take over her work the way you do," said Aunt Em when she was gone. "She has no business going to work in an office house when she has a little new baby, and you haven't any time to look after that baby." Aunt Em knew nothing about Beau's Saturday night escapade, and about Mabel's determination to have a home of her own for her child to support.

Sally did not enlighten her now. "Oh, she may as well work as hang around here doing nothing all day," was all she said to her aunt, and they let it go at that. They never talked much when they were working. That night Mabel came home with the astounding news that she was taking Millie's position in John Nye's office. She did not tell Millie about it. And she was not on speaking terms with her Don Juan husband, so she did not mention it to him. But she told Sally and Aunt Em about it proudly, coming straight through the house to them. Aunt Em had nothing to say, and Sally had very little. But what she did say was to the point, and she said it with a certain bitterness that was unlike her. "Well, work for him if you want to," she told Mabel, not looking up from the napkins she was ironing. "but don't do any little extra things for him. He'll only make fun of you if you do."

"What do you mean?" asked Mabel, plainly puzzled. "I thought you were the Jane who used to get lunch for old Peevey and work Sundays, and do all such foolishness."

Sally nodded briefly. "I am that very Jane," she answered, borrowing Mabel's slang. "That's why I can give you the advice I am giving now."

Mabel shrugged her shoulders. "I don't know. He said some awfully nice things about the work you did for him, this afternoon," said she, and went upstairs with the warm milk bottle that Sally thrust into her hands.

The next morning at 7:45 Mabel started off for the street car and John Nye's office. Beau rolled away in his red car a half hour later, and Millie stayed in bed, where she was having a glorious sleep. She had announced the night before that she would have all her meals in bed that day, and enjoy a well-earned rest. She called it a well-earned rest, herself.

At 5 that afternoon the telephone rang, and Sally answered it. "Hello!" said a shrill, young feminine voice. "Is Bud Jerome there?"

Some queer instinct telegraphed to Sally and told her that the high little voice belonged to the mysterious "cutie" who had been with Beau on the Saturday night party that had turned out so badly for him and for Mabel, not to mention his red automobile.

"No, he's not," she answered, wondering why the girl called Beau "Bud."

"But I expect him very soon," she said.

would be home in about 45 minutes, and Mabel would arrive 15 minutes after him, she figured. . . . And Mabel must not see the girl! She turned and rushed upstairs to get dressed. "I'll have to see her when she comes," she thought anxiously, "and get rid of her before Mabel gets home!"

Once more the telephone rang, and she ran down stairs to answer it, hoping that by some lucky chance it might be Beau's lady love again. But it was only a Western Union girl to read a telegram from Mrs. Jerome: "Send me a hundred dollars right away, and get a room ready for your father; bringing him home right away. Mother."

DAYTON ENGINEERS BUILDING FAST CAR AS RECORD BREAKER

DAYTON, O., Sept. 1.—Automobile engineers and technical data men are working over plans here for the production of an automobile which will break the world's speed record, now held by Major Seagraves, of Great Britain. The machine will be built by the Stutz Motor Car Company of Indianapolis and it is expected that Frank Lockhart, racing driver, will pilot it over the same straightaway course at Daytona Beach, Florida, where Major Seagraves drove his "mystery car" at 203.79 miles per hour.

Although the Stutz Company is keeping the actual details of the new motor a secret, it is known that the car will be completed by January 1, 1928.
